Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The $10 increase in the old age pension is expected to go forward to the pensioners in their end-of-February or start-of-March cheques.

There was a conviction among members of parliament on both sides of the House today that when the government introduces its pension bill this week payment of the increases will be made retroactive to Feb. 1.

Debate on the resolution calling for a measure to increase the amount of monthly pension payable to $65 a month was scheduled to get under way in the House this afternoon.

Blizzard Piles 8-Foot Drifts In Saskatoon

SASKATOON (CP)—Clear, cold weather settled over the Prairies today in the wake of a blizzard that raced through a narrow northern zone, during the weekend.

The blizzard struck hardest in the Saskatoon area, where it was the worst in seven years. Drifts were four to eight feet high and visibility was cut to half a block.

The blizzard raged on a 100-mile-wide front through Whitecourt, Edmonton and Vermilion in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Yorkton in Saskatchewan and then into southern Manitoba.

The storm resulted in snowfalls of 9½ inches at Edmonton, 13 inches at Saskatoon and 5½ inches at Winnipeg. The heaviest fall, 17 inches, was recorded at Whitecourt, 100 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Winds reached 48 miles an hour Sunday in Saskatoon.

PARALYZES TRAFFIC
Traffic was almost immobilized in the storm belt. No fatal accidents were reported. A Saskatchewan Transportation Commission bus and dozens of motorists were stalled overnight from Saturday to Sunday in an area about 30 miles north of Saskatoon.

The bus, carrying 33 passengers, bogged down after leaving Saskatoon early Saturday night on a 115-mile run to Prince Albert. Eighteen hours later it was dug out by two snowplows. The bus rolled into Prince Albert early Sunday.

A. F. G. Carroll, Saskatoon city engineer, estimated it will take two weeks to dig the city out of snowdrifts that blocked lanes and streets.

The blizzard followed a warm spell on the Prairies in which temperatures soared well above normal.

Nelson Courthouse Set Afire —Mayor Calls It 'Civil War'

MRS. WILLARD and KARINA
... stronger than ever before.

BEAT 4-1 ODDS

Karina's Home Happy, Hungry

By JOHN BASSETT
Karina Marie Willard, Victoria's littlest heroine, is back home, safe, sound and stronger than ever before.

Karina, born Oct. 25, sleeps without medication in her home at 1725 Bank Street, and like any other three-month-old baby, eats heartily every three hours, according to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Willard.

Victim of a congenital heart defect and a near-fatal accident aboard the ferry to Vancouver—Karina Marie fought 4-1 odds on her life and won.

The baby had to be transferred Dec. 7 to Vancouver, where a rare operation, involving use of an artificial heart could take place.

BULB FAILED
While en route, a light bulb in the baby's incubator went out and the temperature began to drop rapidly. Only the replacement with an ordinary bulb, which brought incubator temperature to 65 degrees, kept Karina alive.

Once landed at Tsawwassen she was escorted to Vancouver General Hospital by police cars at speeds up to 70 miles per hour.

The following day, Dec. 8, a team of seven doctors headed by Dr. Phillip Ashmore of Vancouver worked over her for 3½ hours. For 35 minutes the baby lived with an artificial heart.

At the start of the operation Karina was given a one in five chance of survival. Now, seven weeks later, she is home with her parents.

STIMULANT
According to her mother the baby eats normally and is beginning to add to her 10 pounds, nine ounces. The only drug which Karina takes is a twice daily dose of lanoxin, an elixir of digitalis which stimulates the heart.

As long as the tot stays free of any infection in the next month, the doctors say she will be out of trouble.

APPEAL DENIED TO 'WITNESS'
OTTAWA (CP)—A member of the Jehovah's Witnesses failed today in a bid to take his sect's fight against blood transfusions before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Trial of Douks Continues Today

NELSON (CP)—The stately Nelson courthouse felt the sting of terrorist fire Sunday night.

Incendiary devices, crudely made from half-gallon cans filled with oil, were burned in the building's entrance.

A stairwell was destroyed and walls scorched.

Damage was estimated at more than $1,000.

The stone courthouse, three storeys high, has been the site for the trials of some members of the Radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, charged with acts of terrorism throughout the Kootenay area of southeastern British Columbia.

About 80 of the Sons have been arrested, 13 have been convicted and 10 sentenced to prison.

TRIALS CONTINUE
Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan of the British Columbia Supreme Court, presiding at the trials now, said court would sit today. Three of the Sons—Leo Legebokoff, Fred Jmaeff and John Dabakaeff—were to be sentenced.

The fire started at 10:15 p.m. and some said there was an explosion. An earlier report that the fire squad had been called away on a false alarm minutes before the courthouse fire was discounted.

Police said terrorists entered the courthouse by breaking a rear window. They said there was blood, and a shoe print on the ledge.

Buster Wigg, a taxi driver, was sitting in a coffee shop when someone ran in to report the fire. Wigg ran to the courthouse, smashed through a glass door and, with his hands, cut off the air supply to the burning cans.

SEES MAN FLEEING
Patrick Brown, who was near the building at the time, said he would be able to identify a man he saw running from the courthouse.

RCMP officers have maintained watch on the courthouse as the Doukhobor trials proceed, and on occasion have forcefully quelled violence once by threatening with dogs.

Hockey Appeal Sent
TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has appealed to the International Ice Hockey Federation to take "all possible steps" to ensure full representation at the March world amateur championship at Colorado Springs, Colo.

4TH VICTIM
BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—A 39-year-old police sergeant was found beaten to death in his squad car at the edge of a water-filled quarry today.

He was the fourth Wisconsin police officer to be slain on duty during the last seven months.

Attorney-General Bonner said in Victoria he was awaiting a detailed report from Nelson authorities before commenting on the incident.

"It's unfortunate that this incident may tend to prejudice in the minds of the people the trials of the 60 still to come up in the area," he said.

Asked whether the court house bombing would bring a renewed drive against terrorist activities, Mr. Bonner said the police in the area don't need any further instructions from Victoria to put on a renewed drive.

Centennial Flashback...
THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862
FEBRUARY 5
Two litigants who had a suit pending in the Summary Court settled the matter out of court in their own way. Walking together across the James' Bay Bridge, they fell to arguing, first verbally, then with fists. Interested spectators watched until one of the men cried "Hold, enough," then led the victor away. The suit will be withdrawn from the courts.

The Hudson's Bay ship Princess Royal, inbound from London, went aground on Shoal Point while being towed into the inner harbor by the company's steamer Otter. Citizens eagerly awaited high tide for the ship to be floated off, as she was said to carry a valuable and varied cargo.

A new rule went into effect at the debtor's prison, banning the daily half gallon of beer which was customarily sent in from a neighboring inn. There are four men in the prison at present.

ROUND-A-BOIT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Dan Melvor, manager of Forest Industries Flying Tankers Ltd., finds travelling to the company's office at Victoria International Airport faster and easier than to headquarters in downtown Vancouver.

He explains: "I live on Sea Island, just three minutes' drive from the airport, and catch a TCA plane just before it leaves. When it stops at Pat Bay I'm about 100 yards from my office here."

"I'm saved all of that long and arduous trip by car to the Vancouver city centre. I don't know the actual saving in time, but that drive to Vancouver seems to take hours."

Dan comes here to superintend conversion of one of his firm's huge Mars flying boats, the Philippe Mars, as a water bomber, and flies back and forth every day.

There was more than one hockey game in Victoria, to mark the 50th anniversary of the first game played on artificial ice.

Fortunately, the second one wasn't open to the public.

It was a friendly (?) game between the doctored members of Saanich and Esquimalt police forces played at Esquimalt arena.

Result of the battle between the constabularies is still in doubt. The official score card showed it as a 10-10 tie, but both teams reject this.

Esquimalt claims that as the game was played in their arena according to their rules, they won 7-6. The Saanich team claims they took the honors with a 11-10 victory. They admit using "upwards of 10 men" to get the winning goal.

Standing out on the Saanich team (by virtue of rank) was Chief Bert Pearson who played a slithering game in goal.

However, his opposite number, Esquimalt constable Frank Mitchell, charged the Saanich chief with "failing to remain." He alleges that every time the Esquimalt team looked like scoring, Chief Pearson would move the goal away.

Injuries were few—despite the fact that some 90 per cent of the players couldn't skate.

Among the nearly 900 guests aboard the Mv Victoria on her inaugural voyage Saturday was one unwilling and unhappy gatecrasher.

Mrs. Mary Clark, manageress of Ballantyne's Florists, rushed some corsages to the boat for Mrs. Bennett and wives of other notables, and got caught on board as the ferry pulled from the dock.

Observers say Mrs. Clark, on realizing her predicament and the amount of work still to do at the office, retired to the upper deck, resolutely crossed her arms, and didn't say a word until she got off at Swartz Bay.

It was adding insult to injury.

Two weeks ago, a house belonging to Ezzar Kahn at 760 Hillside was damaged by fire. Since then it has not been occupied.

Then last week somebody entered the premises and stole two smoke-damaged television sets that had been left inside.

Chief Petty Officer C. D. Schultz and Leading Seaman W. E. McLaughlin, of Victoria, have each earned a cash award from the Suggestion Board of the Public Service of Canada and a congratulatory letter from Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, Chief of the Naval Staff.

Their joint suggestion concerned a modification to gunnery radar equipment fitted in HMC ships and has been adopted for use in the RCN.

(It is not known whether or not the suggestion was made prior to the Clallam Bay incident.)

A tall, immaculate figure in tails and white tie, Social Credit MLA Cyril Sheford attracted the attention of a couple of teen-age girls when he dropped into a Cook Street drug store the other evening.

"Who's he?" asked one.

"Probably one of those TV types," answered her companion.

They never guessed he was a working politician dressed up for a state dinner at Government House.

A store in our neighboring city of Port Angeles is using a catchy blend of safety, fringing and advertising.

It trumpets:

"DRIVE CAREFULLY . . . PEOPLE ARE OUR BEST CUSTOMERS."

A secret reason for putting off the U.S. space shot has seeped through security to a few select newspapers.

The way we get it, a new astronaut is being trained, a woman.

Seems the new thinking is a woman driver can hit anything if she puts her mind to it.

Saanich Won't Bind Future Councillors

A legal technicality is the sole reason Saanich has refused to sign an agreement with the Capital District Improvement Commission and Victoria for the beautification of Douglas Street.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said Saturday Saanich has no legal authority to sign the agreement giving a final go-ahead for the $180,000 beautification project.

PEKING (Reuters)—Tens of thousands of Chinese thronged the streets outside Peking's Gate of Peace today as the toy bazaar returned to its traditional place in China's spring festival.

The bazaar, held for centuries, was dropped without explanation last year but today big balloons and multi-colored banners and slogans hailed the opening of the "year of the tiger."

Families wearing their brightest clothes crowded the streets in the warm sun or attended special theatre, movie and circus performances. Firecrackers popped throughout the city as children used up those left over from Sunday night's new year's eve parties.

FLOWER SHOW

Bottles In Round Pour In

A steady supply of round milk bottles are being turned over to the Victoria Horticultural Society as the result of an appeal Friday by secretary Major George Wiggan for the containers.

"Since early Saturday I have received a deluge of phone calls," said Major Wiggan. "One person offered us three dozen milk bottles which she found in the basement of her home."

But despite the response to the appeal, he said, the society still needs about 400 milk bottles. But they must be round not square.

The society uses the round bottles for its flower shows. They are fitted with cardboard collars to hide them from view during the exhibitions.

The collars won't fit the square type containers which are now being used by the dairy industry.

Major Wiggan said the cost of making up new collars to fit square bottles would be prohibitive.

'Confounded The Experts' Says Bennett

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Victoria Machinery Depot was awarded the contracts to build two new government ferries because its price was the lowest submitted "from anywhere in the world," Premier Bennett said Saturday.

"This shows what can be done with good management and a skilled work force," the premier told nearly 900 guests from Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland participating in an inaugural cruise aboard the B.C. government's new $3,000,000 ferry Mv City of Victoria.

Starts Tuesday

In a ceremony in the ship's forward lounge, off Swartz Bay, Mr. Husband formally handed over the 343-foot vessel to Premier Bennett as head of the B.C. Toll Authority.

It will go into service on the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen run Tuesday morning.

Premier Bennett congratulated Mr. Husband and VMD shipyard workers on a "magnificent new addition" to the government's ferry fleet.

Mayor Dick Wilson of Victoria and Mayor Peter Maffeo of Nanaimo added their congratulations. Mayor Wilson commended the government for its "courage and ingenuity" in developing a successful ferry service between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Dogwood Emblem

After handing over the ship's documents, Mr. Husband hauled down the VMD flag and the premier hoisted the B.C. dogwood emblem to the masthead.

Mr. Husband said the new ferry was completed in the record time of nine months from the laying of the keel last May to the date of delivery.

"This is entirely due to the skill and efficiency of our builders and workers," he declared.

Premier Bennett said the B.C. government ferries had confounded the "experts" who advised against them.

"First they said we couldn't make them pay. Then they said they were too large and now they are saying they are too small.

Up by 17.8%

He claimed that January business on the Nanaimo Horseshoe Bay ferries (formerly operated by Black Ball) had increased 17.6 per cent over the corresponding month last year.

"I want to assure you as chairman of the B.C. Toll Authority that the new service is a profitable service, and don't let anyone tell you differently."

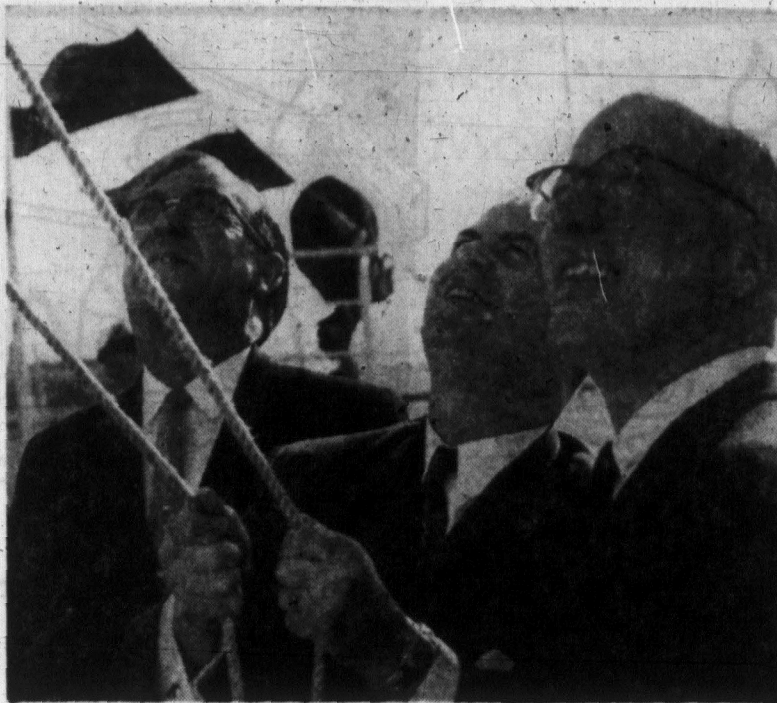

The hundreds of invited guests swarmed over the new ferry during a five-hour inaugural cruise through the Gulf Islands.

Many improvements were noted. The City of Victoria is slightly longer and wider than its predecessors, the Sidney and Tsawwassen, and can accommodate 1,000 passengers and 106 automobiles.

It has an elevator for the use of aged and infirm; a restaurant seating 144 and a coffee shop; complete air-conditioning and ventilation; more windows in the lounges; and a bow-thrust steering propeller controlled from either of the bridge wings or the wheelhouse to make docking easier.

JOINT POLICY STATEMENT OF THE COUNCILS OF THE MUNICIPALITIES OF OAK BAY AND ESQUIMALT

RE AMALGAMATION, METRO-GOVERNMENT and METRO-SERVICES

Adopted January 31st, 1962

The current drive by the Mayor of Victoria and the Reeve of Saanich to force Oak Bay and Esquimalt into a formal study of metro-government under the provisions of the "Municipal Act" has in result forced our two Councils to meet together to discuss the whole matter. As a result of this discussion we have unanimously agreed upon a joint policy as hereinafter set forth.

The background of the current controversy is unfortunate. After much propaganda but no facts or concrete arguments, the Mayor of Victoria and the Reeve of Saanich made a request at the Intermunicipal Committee meeting on January 23rd that Oak Bay and Esquimalt join Victoria and Saanich in requesting the Minister of Municipalities to set up a formal joint committee under Section 766 of the "Municipal Act" to study metro-government for the Greater Victoria area, and they expressed the hope that if such committee considered total amalgamation more desirable it would so recommend. The representatives of Oak Bay and Esquimalt stated that they would not recommend such a course of action to their Councils but would recommend agreement to an informal study of the whole problem by the Intermunicipal Committee. The committee resolved to refer the matter to each Council for its opinion, the result to be brought up at the next meeting of the Intermunicipal Committee. Instead, Victoria Council voted to request a formal study without the courtesy of referring the matter back to the Intermunicipal Committee, and the Reeve of Saanich has stated a similar intention. It is regrettable that Victoria and Saanich should act with such lack of courtesy.

Our reason for not wishing a formal study under the terms of the "Municipal Act" is obvious. If the majority of such a joint study committee recommended a metro form of government, a referendum would be put to the electors in each municipality. If the referendum received a majority vote in two-thirds of the municipalities, the Minister could impose a metro-government on all of the municipalities. Thus, if the electors in one municipality voted one hundred per cent against metro it could still be imposed on them. Surely it would be a complete breach of duty on the part of our Councils to allow such an undemocratic step to be taken.

We in the Oak Bay and Esquimalt Councils are ready and willing and have always been ready and willing and have, in fact, publicly offered to discuss any reasonable proposal for intermunicipal co-operation around the conference table of the Intermunicipal Committee, a body already in existence for such discussions. We welcome the attendance of the Press to report such discussions, but we do not consider that the one-sided attitude of Victoria and Saanich will do anything but widen the gap between ourselves and those municipalities and we express the hope that they will accept our offer to sit down and discuss these matters in a reasonable and informal fashion.

In anticipation of such discussions on these matters, we consider it only fair to make known to Victoria and Saanich the following:

1. That at the present time our Councils are firmly and honestly of the opinion that amalgamation is not in the interest of Oak Bay or Esquimalt.
2. That at the present time we see no merit in metro-government and consider it merely a further burden on the taxpayers.
3. That we believe that the Mayor of Victoria and the Reeve of Saanich should place before our Councils a brief stating the precise objectives they seek, together with sufficient supporting evidence to reasonably show that their proposal has sufficient merit to warrant serious consideration and the expenditure of public funds in investigation and that it would be of benefit to the public generally in the area concerned.
4. That we will not discuss metro-government under the terms of the "Municipal Act" for the reasons hereinbefore given, but will, as previously stated, discuss it and amalgamation in the Intermunicipal Committee without any strings attached.

After such a study we will gladly put the matter to our own ratepayers in the form of a referendum for our guidance so that we may learn if our voters favor either proposal.

5. That we do not believe that any saving in cost or any increase in efficiency will result from metro police and fire services and believe that the present services which we have are excellent.
6. That we believe that if Victoria and Saanich desire to amalgamate or form a metro-government they can do so without Oak Bay or Esquimalt, the presence of neither of which is required geographically or on any other ground.
7. That we consider that our ratepayers have paid long and heavily for those services which they now enjoy and that there is no equity in asking them to pay for the services desired by others.

We have now made our offer to Victoria and Saanich to deal with these matters in what we consider to be a reasonable and proper fashion. If they refuse to accept our offer, we will consider it necessary in carrying out our duties as Councilors in our respective municipalities, to take whatever action may be required to protect the democratic rights of our ratepayers. We sincerely trust that this will not be necessary.

A Living Wage in Ottawa

EVERY POLITICAL PARTY IN Canada, to tell the truth, is finding it difficult to nominate the best possible candidates for the next Parliament. To be sure, some excellent men have lately been nominated. No doubt the present Conservative members of Parliament will be renominated in all but a few cases and the public has had plenty of time to judge them. Nevertheless, throughout the country some of the men and women best equipped to govern it refuse to enter Parliament simply because they cannot afford to do so.

The public looks at the present remuneration paid to members of Parliament—$10,000 a year—and is inclined to assume that must be quite adequate. After all, it is about twice the income of the average Canadian family. This assumption, ignores the facts of parliamentary life.

A member of Parliament goes to Ottawa from his home town not for a few weeks or months but, nowadays, for most of the year. Except in rare cases, as for example in Toronto or Montreal, within easy commuting distance of Ottawa, the member must abandon his own business. He cannot practise his profession, he cannot work for a private employer nor continue to manage a firm of his own.

Worse than that, he cannot possibly live in decent comfort on his annual indemnity. If he leaves his family at home and lives in Ottawa alone he must support two households. If he moves his family to Ottawa with him and moves it back to his home town during the parliamentary recess the cost in money is impossible, unless he has private means, and the cost in trouble and the disruption of family life is even heavier.

Besides, a member of Parliament, unlike a private citizen, must bear large and perpetual expenses if he is to do his job properly. He must travel frequently across the country, he must keep in touch with his constituents and invariably he must pay part at least of the cost of his election campaigns. All these costs together have become unbearable under modern conditions.

The simple fact, in most cases, is that the very sort of young, active men and women whom the nation most needs cannot enter Parliament. And if the present Parliament is of indifferent quality, as undoubtedly it is, the main reason is obvious to everyone.

But we don't believe that the voters, if they stopped to think about it, would question the need of providing the servants who make their laws with a living wage. Probably the best way of providing it is not to raise the indemnity for every member but to allow each a reasonable expense account for life in Ottawa depending on his circumstances, the number of his dependents, the distance of his home from the capital and his necessary travelling expenses.

That principle is applied in all private business. No businessman and no labor union official is expected to pay his own expenses when he travels in the course of his duties. The public seems to think, however, (having really failed to think the thing through at all) that members of Parliament are all prosperous men when, in fact, most of them are poor and some almost desperate.

It will be a sorry day for Canada when our Parliament is composed only of rich men who can afford its costs or of poor men who accept its present indemnity because they cannot earn a decent living for themselves.

Disagreement Among Friends

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN France and its two major allies, Britain and the United States, remain strained and there is no immediate prospect of settlement.

On basic issues, of course, there is agreement. But two facets of French policy, firmly insisted on by President de Gaulle, divide the allies and place a heavy burden on the West in facing up to cold war practicalities.

General de Gaulle has taken a determined stand against any negotiation with Russia on the Berlin problem. He insists that in the present circumstances any talks would be under duress. The United States, on the other hand, recognizes that there must be a meeting of East and West on the issue of Berlin, since Mr. Khrushchev will not wait indefinitely to conclude his peace with East Germany, and this, without a settlement with the West, could precipitate still more serious problems involving military force.

Secondly, President de Gaulle has embarked on an independent nuclear weapons policy and refuses to abandon it. France, he says, must become a nuclear power in its own right, and this will add to the strength of the Western deterrent.

The United States, while still refusing to share its nuclear secrets with other countries, proposes to arm a supra-national NATO authority with nuclear weapons and says this removes the necessity of France undertaking such a dangerous program. On this point, as on the Berlin talks, De Gaulle remains adamant.

He has added a further embarrassment to Western unity by his reiterated proposal for a three-nation council—France, Britain and the United States—to plan and mastermind the West's approaches to global questions. This is opposed by his two allies, and by the rest of the NATO membership since it would reduce the latter to relatively voiceless followers of the great powers' policies.

The differences of opinion between Washington and Paris have been conducted in the greatest politeness and assurances of basic friendship, and with expressions of full understanding of each other's position. But De Gaulle concedes nothing on the points at issue; relations have reached an impasse, with little prospect of agreement in the near future.

Looming back of this situation is France's Algerian problem, which could shortly be resolved in blood and the destruction of the Fifth Republic of General de Gaulle. The West must have regard for the larger issues and continue to give France its friendly support in hopes of avoiding worse and perhaps tragic problems.

Mrs. Henry Esson Young

UNTIL HER ADVANCED years and failing health forced her to curtail her activities, Mrs. Henry Esson Young had been a symbolic presence at almost every event calculated to advance the cause of higher education in this community.

She represented, throughout a long and active life, the fine spirit and tireless energy of that element in Greater Victoria which sought the broadest possible opportunity for learning among our people, particularly the young.

As a young woman, Miss Rosalind Watson, she lectured to Victoria College's first class. When the College reached degree-granting status last year, she was the first on whom was conferred an honorary doctorate.

In the long years between, Mrs. Young devoted most of the spare time allowed a mother successfully raising her family to those projects which widened the horizons of any who would study in Victoria.

Alert, straight-forward, energetic, she helped to build many of the institutions on which this city now looks with pride.

At her passing, this community has occasion again to remember the splendid contributions she has made to it.

Lighting a Candle

A GRACEFUL ACCOLADE HAS been bestowed upon those students from the College of Education at Point Grey who are giving some of their evening time to help Musquam Indian Reserve children with their homework.

Most of the Indian parents, says the band's chief, lack education. Anxious as they may be to see their youngsters advance in school, they are unable to give the parental help so often needed in homework and in providing the environment that encourages study.

The College of Education students are trying to fill the gap—and, according to reports, with some success.

"So shines a good deed in a naughty world," says a Vancouver newspaper in editorial tribute. So it shines indeed. And men of good will are warmed by the candle's tiny flame.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT

At Least We Know How It's Going to Be

By B. A. TOBIN

IT was touch and go all weekend, I guess, but we made it. All those predictions of catastrophe—because of the moon and the planets and all that—failed to come true. Or did they? The sober fact is that any prediction of catastrophe and woe, if it is generalized enough, comes true these days. That is the sort of era in which we live—foretold disaster and you can't go wrong.

The only trouble is, it's hard to win a reputation as a seer in that line, even when you're right almost every time. For one thing, everybody's doing it, so as a doom-predictor you are only one of a crowd. And for another, it's getting harder and harder for the public to recognize disasters and catastrophes when they happen. We're almost immune to catastrophe—especially other people's.

Of course, there are the irrepressible Pollyanna people—the ones who think that everything is going to be all right. You overheard them talking in buses and on street corners; you know, snatches of conversation like: "Of course they'll never dare to drop it. It would be suicide for them too, don't you see?"

Or: "Fallout? It's just a lot of propaganda. They say it's no more dangerous than the radiation from your watch dial." Or: "War? Nonsense. Wars are impossible in the nuclear age."

And they wear huge optimistic smiles and look confident as all get out.

Sensible folk, of course, know better. They know that you can safely predict almost any kind of tragedy these days. And if you can't think of one just turn to the front page of any newspaper.

Riots, shootings, traffic deaths, fires, rampant bankruptcy, radiation fears, spies exposed, spies not exposed, gangster killings, floods, fatal disease increases, crop failures, war tension grows, population explosion, rebels rebel, revolutionists revolt, boy didn't know gun was loaded, guerrillas slaughter farm village, tot dies without blood transfusion, arms conference breaks down, Berlin threat threatens, refugees die on wire, fire wipes out family, pilgrims perish in wreck, level crossing kills 16, plane crashes, ship sinks, train through bridge, government overthrown, tidal wave... molten lava... drunken native soldiers... taxes... depression... inflation... unemployment... bombings... funeral costs up...

Things are bad all over. Looking at all these events of yesterday and today, how can anybody have any difficulty in predicting what's going to happen tomorrow? The only way you could go wrong would be to underestimate the situation.

But the very preponderance of these terrible events and threats carries its own protection for us. We develop moral antibodies, mental sedatives, vaccines derived from dead conscience tissue, which tend to protect us.

"I read where five thousand were drowned in the Yangtze floods."

"Yeah, terrible thing, have you seen my cuff links?"

"I see where saboteurs murdered thirty children in Algiers."

"You don't say. Would you mind passing the butter?"

"The radio said the Strontium 90 count has reached the highest ever."

"Uh, huh. Say, we've got a new secretary at the office..."

And so it goes.

Of course, there's a big danger there. We could become so calloused that we would be deadened to all feelings of human pity—for others and for ourselves. But on the other hand if we didn't develop some sort of immunity we couldn't stand it.

So much for hard hearts. If we don't have 'em, we'll be sunk. If we do have 'em, we'll be sunk. That's my prediction.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Flaws in Reformism

Mr. Faulkner comments on the reformist activities of two MLAs of the old Socialist party of Canada. Socialists today are well aware of the folly that the old party fell into of allowing its ranks to be riddled with reformism, which finally broke the party asunder in the 1920's.

The present Socialist party of Canada founded in 1931 has a much sounder object and declaration of principles, designed to attract Socialists only.

As far as anyone becoming a Socialist, it is in spite of and not because of CCF and labor type parties. Thousands go through life supporting pension schemes, nationalization and other state capitalist reforms, thinking all the time they are Socialists and never really finding out what the actual Socialist case is.

My experience in my own union, while speaking at a meeting called for the purpose of deciding to support the New Democratic Party was to be heckled, jeered and shouted down by the executive "yes" boys. A series of interruptions, one claiming that I did not have the right to speak because it was a political matter and it was against our constitution to talk politics at our meetings, where finally culminated by our president insinuating that I was either an agent from Moscow or the Canadian Manufacturers Association.

So much for the New Democratic Party. How new, how democratic, or even how Socialist it shouldn't take people long to find out.

OAS Under Pressure

To one who has lived in Latin America for some 28 years and carries very happy memories of those years, the news from the OAS meeting at Punta del Este is most disturbing. Under extreme pressure from the U.S. apparently the Latin American countries are being forced into taking action against Dr. Castro and Cuba and in my humble opinion this will drive Cuba more and more into the Communist camp.

I have no use for Communism or any other form of dictatorship either of the left or right. However, I feel that the dictatorships of France, Spain, South Viet Nam, Nationalist China and the great majority of the Latin American countries are as pernicious as those of the Communist countries.

In these so-called "free" nations the wealth, land and power are vested in a few families and the vast majority of the people live in utter squalor and ignorance. I have no use for Castro and in fact shortly after he came to power, in a lecture to some Victoria High School history teachers, I prophesied that he would be a dictator within a period of six months.

However, I do feel that the dictatorship in Cuba is directed towards the uplift of the masses whereas the dictatorships in the other countries I have mentioned are directed towards maintaining the position of the few privileged families. It is natural that Castro's program would clash with the large U.S. interests as these interests completely controlled the economy of Cuba.

In my opinion Castro's greatest mistake has been in not calling free elections, supervised by the UN, or some other independent body, and there is now no hope in my mind that he would have received the overwhelming support of his people. Even today I believe that he has the support of the majority of Cubans.

A number of the delegates of the Latin American countries attending the OAS meeting are representatives of the few powerful families which control and govern their respective countries and of course they are not interested in any change of conditions in their countries, especially changes which would reduce their power and privilege. I feel that such an attitude is deplorable for the longer these feudal conditions exist in their countries the more violent and tragic will be the upheaval and there is no doubt in my mind that Latin America will go forward with the rest of the world and feudalism will pass away in their countries as it did in ours many years ago.

I feel that the U.S. is most ill-advised in their attitude to Castro and in general towards Latin America, and I hope Canada will voice its protest and try to influence the U.S. to adopt a more realistic policy.

'New Type of Thinking'

Professor Einstein once said: "A new type of thinking is essential if mankind is to survive and move to higher levels." The indispensable prerequisite to this process is an open mind. There is already in existence a body of men who were compelled by the nature of their profession to not only change the fundamentals of their thinking early in life, but also to approach their professional problems with an open mind. An essential willingness and desire to explore every avenue that might lead to a solution, without any bias, is the foundation on which all their work is based; these men are modern scientists.

No one knows what the extension of this method to the problem of peace would reveal. We do know scientific re-

HOOR FATHER

It may be a bit difficult to arrange my next incarnation, but what I'd like to come back as more than anything is a grandfather clock. Just think of the respectful attention you get—twenty, thirty times a day; people coming up and looking you anxiously in the face, and polishing you, and winding you up. They have to. And you just stand there ticking; and arranging your hands before your face, smiling your lives away.

Forceful But Serene

WHEN, after the death of Dag Hammarskjöld, the names of possible successors began to be bandied about in the splendid corridors of the United Nations Building in New York, few of the delegates knew anything at all about U Thant—the permanent British delegate was uncertain even how to pronounce his name.

It was known that U Thant was from a politically acceptable nation, neutralist Burma; that he always looked composed and serious; that he started as some kind of schoolmaster; and that he was an avid reader of newspapers.

Even when U Thant was elected as Acting Secretary-General, most delegates were ready to concede that they still really knew nothing about him. He came to power as an inoffensive nobody—a choice, made primarily to end, for the time being, an East-West deadlock over the future powers and significance of the Secretary-Generalship.

Yet this man, of an almost endearing obscurity and minor accomplishment, has inherited if anything an even greater crisis than faced his famous predecessor.

Of course, when Hammarskjöld was chosen, in 1953, he was almost equally unknown. But he had an impressive record—son of a Swedish premier, an outstanding intellectual and deputy foreign minister of his country. In contrast, U Thant never even took a degree.

Scholastic Background

No doubt striving to make the best of U Thant, the official UN biography calls him a graduate of Rangoon University, though in fact, after his father's death, he left in his second year. Burmese sources praise him for having at the age of 20 won a prize for translating "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Since then he has written several books, including one in 1933 on the League of Nations and a long history of Burma, but without attracting much attention outside his own country.

But to some UN people, he was worse than unknown; he was suspected of being "weak," specifically, in that he had never shown any talents for leadership.

For years, indeed, U Thant was alter ego to the Burmese prime minister, U Nu, his constant shadow, guide and adviser.

Those who have watched him since his election in November on his high seat in the assembly of nations can no longer doubt his real "presence."

It is now customary to call him tranquil and certainly he seems to be. His face is the color of old ivory and strikingly smooth. He has a way of staring fixedly through his round glasses at any speaker who interests him, blinking slightly.

Western Habits

He still applies Buddhist meditation to his problems, but he is not an ascetic. He chain-smokes small cheroots and is affable at cocktail parties, where he favors daiquiris. He shares a smart apartment on the Upper East side with his wife, a son aged 19 and a daughter of 22 delightfully called Aye-Aye.

U Thant is gentle and polite towards strangers and this has led some to suppose him to have more humility than is safe in a man now required to act with stern authority in the global arguments. He himself says, apologetically, that "most people in Burma are humble" and puts it down to their Buddhist and social training. But he is also equipped by experience of quite a different order.

The UN Charter gives the Secretary-General three functions: to act as the chief administrative officer, to carry out the directions of the Security Council and other UN organizations, to inform the Security Council of anything likely to endanger world peace. To these Hammarskjöld, in U Thant's opinion, added what amounts to a "fourth function," while remaining in the framework of the Charter—that of the political and diplomatic initiative.

Borne Along

Some of U Thant's junior commanders in the Secretariat, sturdily loyal to "Dag," maintain that the Acting Secretary-General is simply being borne along by the tide of activity set moving by his predecessor.

Others argue that U Thant's reactions have already been quick, forceful, and precise.

U Thant's supporters also say that he does not come to them with his mind already made up, seeking only a second opinion to discard, that although he is anything but indecisive, there is no such thing as a "divine right of U Thant."

About one thing there is no argument, that between Hammarskjöld and his successor there lies a major difference. Hammarskjöld had time to shape and test the Secretary-General's powers; U Thant has been thrown straight into the "battle for peace." So far he has responded with impressive serenity. Acne

The curse of teenagers is acne (or pimples) mainly on the face, but often also on the back and front of the chest. Skin specialists tell us that, coming as it does during the years in which a youngster develops sexually, it must be influenced by the glands of internal secretion. Actually, in the cases of older persons, acne can be produced by the giving of certain glandular products. Interestingly, in girls, acne usually disappears at the age of 21 or 22. There appears to be a hereditary factor.

Alvarez

That the person with acne can be strong and in general good health can be seen from the fact that a high school athlete can be well-supplied with pimples. But the fact that his acne can be helped by giving him each day a small dose of an antibiotic suggests that his tissues lack the power to hold in check the germs that normally grow in the skin.

One essential feature in acne is the excessive activity of the oil glands in the skin. This causes the glands to fill with a greasy substance. Then, if the mouth of the little gland is a bit plugged up by an overgrowth of the superficial layer of the skin, the grease stays in; it distends the gland, and a "blackhead" is formed. When this gets infected, the person has a pimple.

There are all degrees of acne, from mild to severe. In some cases, the face soon gets pitted and scarred, and then the person is unhappy for the rest of his life—unless with the "planing process" or treatment with carbon dioxide slush ice, the skin can be considerably smoothed. This treatment can be attempted only after the acute stage of the acne is over.

Because, in ordinary acne, the "blackhead" comes first, it always has seemed to me logical to get rid of the little column of grease before it gets infected. When I was a lad, I had very little trouble with acne because, in a drug store, I found a little spoon, with a hole in it, called a comedone extractor. I put the hole over a blackhead, pressed down and out came the greasy column. Many skin specialists advise youngsters not to squeeze the blackheads out but to come to the office for that. The trouble with this advice is that thousands of youngsters with acne live in a small community where there is no skin specialist; other thousands haven't the money to go often to a doctor; and other thousands haven't the time after school to go and wait for an hour or two at a busy specialist's reception room.

For them, one of the best bits of advice I have heard of is to scrub the face with soap at least three times a day. This will cut down on the amount of greasiness, and it will keep the mouths of the little glands open so that fewer blackheads will form. As I said, when there is a strong tendency to infection, and a skin specialist is available, he may give a small daily dose of an antibiotic. A small dose of X-rays will cut down on the greasiness of the skin, but today, so many persons are afraid of X-rays that many skin specialists have stopped using them for any purpose.

Some physicians believe that the tendency of teenagers to indulge often in large malted milks and many candy bars is hard on their acne. Some believe that chocolate is particularly bad. The patient might do well on several occasions to make a note of unusual foods eaten before a flare-up in the acne. Later, by looking at this list, he may see that some particular food always caused trouble.

Girls should know that the use of much powder on the face will help to plug up the mouths of the oil glands, and thus to make the acne worse. It is important to remove all make-up on going to bed. Another important point is that youngsters with acne should keep social; they should not become so painfully conscious of their pimples that they retire into "a shell."

Many people write to me to ask what can be done for what looks like a chronic inflammation of a side of one or more nails on a hand or foot. The best thing to do is to find a skin specialist—who will study scrapings under his microscope to see if there are molds present. Sometimes, there are bacteria, also. According to some skin specialists, the disease usually can be cleared up with the use of an antibiotic called Griseofulvin. Unfortunately, the treatment may have to be kept up for from three to five months if the infection is not to come back. Also, if the infection is in some toe nails, the stockings should be boiled and shoes should be disinfected.

Defiant Castro Assails OAS Move, U.S. Trade Cut

HAVANA (AP) — Cheered by a vast throng of Cubans, Premier Fidel Castro brushed off Cuba's impending expulsion from the Organization of American States and predicted his kind of revolution would sweep Latin America "like a march of giants."

A throng of Cubans jamming Jose Marti Plaza roared approval Sunday night as Castro assailed President Kennedy as hypocritical and impudent for banning imports from Cuba.

MILITARY AID STEPPED UP BY RED BLOCK

WASHINGTON (CP) — Cuba now has 50 to 100 MIG jet fighters and may be receiving some Soviet bombers and short-range rockets in new Communist-bloc arms shipments, U.S. experts estimated Sunday.

The total worth of Communist military assistance to Fidel Castro has been placed at some $100,000,000 so far, with most of the arms deliveries completed in a 12-month period ended last August.

They believe a fresh flow of weapons is starting after an arms-assimilation period which began in Cuba last summer. In this phase, Soviet bloc instructors remolded Castro forces along Communist lines.

German Press Just 'Fed Up' With Attacks

LONDON (CP) — "We Germans are finally fed up," that is the headline in a West German newspaper, Bild Zeitung, hitting back at the editorial campaign carried on against the federal republic by the Beaverbrook press.

"For years Lord Beaverbrook has agitated against us," says the newspaper published by millionaire Axel Springer, who is to German publishing roughly what Beaverbrook is to the British industry.

Bild Zeitung directed its fire particularly at a recent article in Beaverbrook's Daily Express warning Britain against "betrayal" by West Germany. Another of Springer's papers, Die Welt, said the Beaverbrook press displayed a "pathological hatred" of Germans.

The Daily Express fully reported the German criticisms and published a picture of the front-page layout of Bild Zeitung.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — President Moise Tshombe of the Congo's Katanga Province has proposed that the United Nations and Katanga establish two joint civilian-military commissions of four men each to get all foreign mercenaries out of the province.

He also proposed that the UN and Katangan troops give the commissions all the help necessary to see that the mercenaries are "apprehended and expelled from the Congo." He said the commissions could go anywhere and inspect any Katangan armed units.

Tshombe made the proposals in two letters published Sunday. He sent the letters Friday to Sture Linner of Sweden, officer-in-charge of UN Congo operations.

Harmonious Plans for the Patio

Patios and paved areas close to the house are becoming increasingly popular with modern homeowners.

There are no doubt many reasons for this trend, which is not new except in name. Such areas used to be called terraces and are to be found as integral parts of many fine old homes. Their use was for comfortable sitting outdoors in summer, and for the equally comfortable dry-shod "taking of air" in winter.

Today we sum up all this in the one word functional. Patios and paved areas are functional in so much as they provide a clean, soil-free space for family living outdoors.

In order that the area shall not be devoid of color and interest, the architect usually incorporates planters or ground beds into the patio plans. These are to be filled with appropriate plants which will add to the finished picture.

There are homeowners who like to use permanent plants of unusual interest such as may be found among specimen shrubs in some of these beds, leaving the others to be filled with summer color.

This plan has much to recommend it, since summer is possibly the time for the greatest enjoyment of the area. Beds of low-growing annuals of one color are most effective, the pleasant fact being that by choosing a different color scheme each year a completely new picture would be created.

One year the scheme could be worked with coral pink petunias; the next year with powder-blue ageratum; a third year with sunny yellow marigolds.

HARD ON EYES
It may be noticed that the reds and glowing orange have been avoided. These two colors are particularly hard on the eyes when used in quantity in a restricted area where much time is spent by the family.

The use of a single color will be found much more restful than filling the beds with more than one color and flower form.

If we plan for harmony in our outdoor living areas, we may well achieve more harmony within the walls.

Slump Ends For Palmer

Fantastic Finish Finds Arnold Richer by $5,300

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (CP) — Arnold Palmer exploded from his slump Sunday to capture the $50,000 Palm Springs Open tournament with a brilliant final round.

Palmer picked up his first tournament win in seven months by firing a string of five birdies on the first nine holes and going on to register a three-under-par 69 at the Bermuda Dunes Country Club. His 90-hole total of 342 was 17 under par and three strokes better than the second-place finishers, Gene Littler, who won the recent $50,000 San Francisco International Open, and Jay Hebert. Palmer, who swept the Palm Springs classic three years ago, pocketed $5,300. But the big money went to Dick Mayer, who grabbed a $50,000 bonus for a hole-in-one Saturday's fourth round. Mayer ended up in a two-man tie for 10th place and won an additional $1,050.

THREE LOSSES

Dodos Keep Lloyds Up At Nights

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Lloyds of London will insure anything imaginable. But the company may be having second thoughts about the Palm Springs Open golf tournament.

For the last three years Lloyds has gambled $50,000 against a hole-in-one being scored in the open. It has lost each year.

The latest lucky fellow was Dick Mayer, who scored an ace in the fourth round of the 90-hole event Saturday.

Mayer finished in a tie for 10th place in the tournament and picked up an additional $1,050 for a total of $51,050.

Now the sponsors are wondering what Lloyds will require as a premium for underwriting the gamble in 1963.

So little did Lloyds think of the chances for a hole-in-one in the five-day event that the premium the first year was a mere $4,500. That was 1960 and Joe Campbell hit an ace.

The cost was boosted to $13,500 for 1961 and Don January scored a hole-in-one.

The London company did some last thinking this year and demanded an $18,800 premium.

LEONARD FAR BACK

Palmer, 32, a native of Lionier, Pa., put together rounds of 69-67-66-71-69 and forged in front in the final 18 holes after trailing Littler by three strokes and Gardner Dickinson by one.

Stan Leonard, who led the marathon event after two rounds, finished in a deadweight for 25th place and won $405. He started with rounds of 65-67, but tumbled far down the list with 78-72-71 for a 353 total.

At Baiding of Toronto was in 32nd place, good for $164.44, with 73-69-72-69-355.

CANADIANS OUT

Three other Canadians failed to make Saturday's cutoff of 287. Wilf Homenick of Winnipeg had an 80 Saturday for a four-round total of 296. George Knudson of Toronto had 79 for 298 and Al Johnston of Montreal had 74 for 290. Jerry Magee of Toronto dropped out earlier, with a sore hand.

Earlier wound up with a 75. He and Hebert each won $2,800. Dickinson, the leader after three rounds, had a 74 Sunday and 72 Saturday. He finished in a fourth-place tie with Tommy Aaron and Al Geiberger at 346. South Africa's Gary Player wound up with a 71 for a 352.

LOOK WHO'S RESTING!

In mock amusement, Dr. A. E. (Albert) Walkey (left) makes sure "kid brother" Glen is comfortable behind the glass for Pacific Coast Curling Association bonspiel which got under way today at Esquimalt and Victoria clubs. Dr. Walkey, who has been curling since 1892, is 81 and has entered regular 'spiel. Glen, 71, will wait for seniors' events to start Thursday. See story below. (Robin Clarke Photo.)

Doctor Started Curling in 1892

Bonspieling is the most strenuous form of curling, but that isn't stopping an 81-year-old Ontario doctor from competing in the inaugural Pacific Coast Curling Association 'spiel.

The week-long bonspiel got under way this morning with draws at the Esquimalt and Victoria Curling Clubs.

The $6,000, six-event 'spiel, with a record 113 rinks ready to step into the hack, winds up with finals at Victoria Club next Sunday.

Thirty-five of the rinks are confining their play to special events for seniors, curlers over 60 years of age.

But 81-year-old Dr. A. E. (Albert) Walkey, of Hamilton, plans on stepping along with the regulars as well as with the seniors.

"No use coming all that way just for one bonspiel," Walkey said.

The spy doctor, a radiologist at Hamilton General Hospital until his retirement 10 years ago, will curl in the seniors' events with his "kid" brother, Glen, 71-year-old Victoria druggist; 69-year-old Tom Rolston and 71-year-old Ted Smith.

LAST POST blew in Burnaby General Hospital Saturday for Earle A. Lewis, 69, dean of Vancouver horse racing officials. He resigned a few weeks ago as president of the B.C. Jockey Club because of failing health. He is survived by his wife, Pauline, and a son, Dr. J. C. Lewis.

Warriors Walloped

TRAIL (CP) — The world amateur champion Trail Smoke Eaters scored one of the biggest wins in the history of the Western International Hockey League Saturday night, thrashing the Rossland Warriors 20-1.

Game Leg Contributed To Record Pole Vault

GAIN CUP FINAL

Firemen Douse Canadians

VANCOUVER — Vancouver firefighters powered their way into the final of the Anderson Cup soccer competition Sunday by trouncing Vancouver Canadians 8-3 before 2,000 fans.

Firefighters will now meet Victoria United in the cup final here next Sunday.

Centre-forward Jim Blundell paced the Firefighters' scoring parade with a pair of goals. Neil McEachnie scored all three goals for the outclassed Canadians.

In a Pacific Coast League match Saturday, North Shore chalked up a 3-1 victory over St. Andrews.

BOSTON (AP) — John Uelses soared to a record pole vault of 16 feet three-quarter inch Saturday night at the Boston Athletic Association games. He says a game leg helped him do it.

The 24-year-old marine corporal from Quantico, Va., set his mark just 24 hours after he shattered pole vaulting's 16-foot barrier by doing 16 feet, 1/4 inch in the Millrose Games in New York.

"I felt a pull in my right leg while I was going down the runway," Uelses recalled Sunday. "I was going to stop and quit and I actually broke my stride. But I figured that I was this far along so I might as well go through with the vault."

"I think breaking my stride gave me a little extra lift when I went up and over."

The record leap came on his first shot at the mark. He had started down once, but at the last second applied the brakes because he knew "something was wrong."

"I think I cleared the bar by about six inches at my stomach on the way over," he said. "That's the important part of your body. I did brush it on the way down and I watched the bar all the way to the pit."

ARCADIA, Cal. (AP) — Queen America, 7-1 longshot with a light impost of 113 pounds, won the $62,100 Santa Margarita Handicap — Santa Anita's annual classic for fillies and mares — here Saturday. Oil Royalty, coming from last in the field of 13, was a fast-closing second. Tritoma was third.

BOSTON (CP) — Bill Crothers, of Toronto, king of Canada's half-mile runners, won the 1,000-yard race at the Boston Athletic Association games Saturday, in a speedy 2 minutes 8.6 seconds. But Bruce Kidd, 18-year-old Toronto middle-distance runner, could do no better than third in an international two-mile race.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Britain's Stirling Moss won the International 100-mile road race at Warwick Farm Track for the second-straight year Sunday, averaging 81.49 miles an hour in his Cooper Climax.

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Roles Purley, a 20-year-old California housewife and mother, who was absent from competition 1 1/2 years, made good her comeback Sunday by winning the United States women's figure skating championship.

Paille Holds Canyans Down; Leafs Bobble

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens ran into a red-hot substitute goaltender and were beaten for the first time in a month Sunday night.

But they were able to hang on to their six-point lead atop the National Hockey League because Toronto Maple Leafs failed to hold a mighty-mite defenceman.

Marcel Paille, an emergency replacement for the injured Lorne "Gump" Worsley in the New York Rangers' nets, brought about Montreal's downfall.

Paille came up with a superb 40-save performance and led the Rangers to a 2-1 victory over the Habs at New York.

About an hour later, Pierre Pilote, who does a terrific job for Chicago Black Hawks despite his 165-pound frame, killed off Toronto's hopes of gaining ground on the league leaders.

Pilote engineered a power-play goal, then stole the puck for an unassisted tally and the Black Hawks went on to edge the Maple Leafs, also 2-1, for their fifth straight victory.

Elsewhere Sunday night, Detroit Red Wings snapped a five-game winless streak after shaking up their lines and replacing the slumping Terry Sawchuk with Hank Bassen in goal.

Bassen, playing only in his eighth game this season, stopped 21 drives and shut out Boston Bruins 6-0.

Montreal, Toronto and Chicago all won in rather easy fashion Saturday night.

THREE QUICKIES

The Canadiens, in one of their best home displays of the season, got three goals within one minute and 29 seconds early in the game and went on to smash the Red Wings 8-1. The Maple Leafs dumped the Rangers 4-1 at Toronto, scoring three times on an untested goalie after Worsley hurt his elbow early in the second period.

Chicago got two-goal performances from Stan Mikita, Ron Murphy and defenceman Elmer Vasko and slapped down Boston 6-3, also on home ice.

END THREE STREAKS

Montreal's loss at New York ended three streaks.

The Habs hadn't lost in 12 NHL starts, winning 10 and tying two. They also hadn't lost to Rangers in nine previous games this season and New York had not beaten Canadiens since the last game of the 1959-60 campaign.

The Rangers managed to beat the Canadiens a couple of times in 1960-61, but they did it at the expense of Charlie Hodge.

At Toronto, Saturday, Worsley was hurt just before George Armstrong put Toronto into a 1-0 lead at the 27-second mark of the middle period.

Dave Dryden, goaltender with Toronto Marlboros of the Metropolitan Toronto Junior A League, took Worsley's place.

COLWOOD'S BUTTON DUO SUCCESSFUL

Royal Colwood's team of George Andrews and Laurie Kerr successfully defended the city open buttons Sunday, defeating Oak Bay's challenging team of Dr. George Bigelow and Laurie Carroll, 2 and 1 at Colwood.

Winners carded a best-ball score of 65, five under par, compared to a 67 by the challengers.

Perfect Records Finally Stained

They finally stained the glossy records of McNutt's Sanich Thistles and Victoria Optimists.

Previously unbeaten and untied in Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association play, both were tied 2-2 Sunday.

Oak Bay Optimists got two goals from Brian Ridgeway to blot McNutt's record in Division II, while Britannia Legion proved the spoilers of Victoria's Division I mark.

The scorers follow:

DIVISION I — McNutt's — Perry Wightman, Doug Gregory, Total 2; Oak Bay Optimists — Brian Ridgeway, Total 2; Britannia Legion — Russell Ball, Kees Boushall, Total 2; Victoria Optimists — Ash Walid, Jim Ackinson, Total 2.

DIVISION II — McNutt's — Perry Wightman, Doug Gregory, Total 2; Oak Bay Optimists — Brian Ridgeway, Total 2; Britannia Legion — Russell Ball, Kees Boushall, Total 2; Victoria Optimists — Ash Walid, Jim Ackinson, Total 2.

DIVISION III — McNutt's — Perry Wightman, Doug Gregory, Total 2; Oak Bay Optimists — Brian Ridgeway, Total 2; Britannia Legion — Russell Ball, Kees Boushall, Total 2; Victoria Optimists — Ash Walid, Jim Ackinson, Total 2.

HEAD INJURED

Volunteer Bill Portland Hero

By The Canadian Press

Veteran defenceman Bill Davidson of Portland Buckaroos found himself in a new role in the Western Hockey League Sunday night.

Davidson, 35, was the only volunteer for the netminding chore when Don Head was injured late in the first period in a game against Vancouver Canucks.

A crowd of 7,666 well below this season's normal 10,000 for Portland's Coliseum watched Davidson make 14 saves in his first time in goal as the Bucks fought to a 2-1 overtime victory.

In Seattle, San Francisco Seals beat the Totems 6-1 while Edmonton Flyers edged the Comets 3-2 at Spokane.

The Flyers' beat Calgary Stampede 9-2 Saturday night. The Comets downed the Canucks 8-1, Los Angeles Blades belted San Francisco 11-4 and the Totems defeated the Bucks 5-4 in overtime.

HURTS HIP TENDON

Head suffered a pulled hip tendon when he stretched to block a shot. He will be out for an indefinite period.

Portland coach Hal Laycoe, asked why he played Davidson, replied: "He's the only guy who volunteered."

Voted the game's outstanding player, Davidson replied: "There's a first time for everything, and I thought I could play it. I felt better as the game went along."

Playing coach Phil Maloney of the Canucks said the Buckaroos, leaders of the Southern Division, "checked a lot harder than I have seen them do before. They gave the goalie an awful lot of protection."

Portland's Art Jones tied it up for the Bucks late in the second period, matching Jim Reid's goal for Vancouver early in the same session. After a scoreless third period, Buckaroo Gene Achtymchuk ended the game at 2:12 of overtime.

Bapcos Bright, Enamel Rivals

Everybody took a run at them, but Bapco Paint kegglers enamelled the field in the city handicap tenpin championships at Aurora Lanes over the weekend.

Lorimer's 53 Tops Zarry's Scoring Mark

Scoring 25 points is considered a fine night's work in any basketball game, but Darrell Lorimer's total Saturday looked mediocre compared to Friday's still-talked-about display on Victoria College's behalf.

Lorimer, who pumped in 53 points Friday, was "held" to 25 Saturday as Skagit Valley Cardinals swept their intercollegiate series with the Vikings.

Cards followed up Friday's 86-82 win with an 82-70 decision Saturday, pulling away with eight points in the final three minutes.

Lorimer's 53-point spurge tops, by two points, the district's high school and college record. Pete Zarry of Victoria High scored 51 points in a game in the early '50s.

Vikings visit Mt. Vernon, Wash., next Saturday for a single game with the Cards.

Saturday's scoring:

Cardinals—Falle 14, Weaver 16, McBeath 15, Ziebell 8, Queen 8, Altona 6, Johnson 5, Eastman 3, Clarke 2, Carmichael 2. Total 82.

Vikings—Lorimer 25, Littleton 4, Sadler 10, Woyt 6, Mohr 5, Brice 12, McIntyre 1, Wong 2. Total 70.

RECORD EQUALLED

MOSCOW (AP)—Lyudmila Motina equalled the world record of 7.2 seconds for the women's 60-metre dash Saturday during Russia's biggest indoor track and field meet.

Heaneys Derail Gorge; Ease Traffic at Top

Nelson Crisp continued to display a happy (for Canadian Scottish) knack of scoring the big goals in tight games, and the Thornes of Duncan enjoyed a family scoring party.

But none of Sunday's feats in the Victoria and District Soccer League could detract from a well-earned victory marked up by Heaneys.

Tied for seventh place in league standings with Brodies, Heaneys reached up to slap high-flying Gorge Hotel out of first place. Manager Gil Oliver's Movers earned, on the strength of football shown at Topaz Park, full marks for their 3-2 victory.

FOUR SHUTOUTS

Darrell McIntyre, Doug Currie and Al Boden counted Heaneys' goals.

The day's results, which included four shutouts, only slightly eased the traffic tie-up at the head of the table. With Gorge falling, Hourigan's Kickers and Duncan Rangers remained tied for first, a point ahead of Evcoes.

Duncan tagged winless Saanich Thistles with a 7-2 defeat while Kickers blanked Nanaimo 3-0. In Sunday's other games, Evcoes shut out Esquimalt, 2-0; Scottish stopped Ladysmith 1-0 on a goal by Crisp, and Brodies beat Victoria West, 2-0.

The Thornes had a field day at Reynolds Road Park. Duncan's soccer-playing family accounted for six of the seven Ranger goals. Eugene scored three, Ralph two and Will added one.

EASE OF MAINTENANCE CUTS DOWNTIME... LOWERS SHOP COSTS!

typical of the easy serviceability found in GMC trucks, these tilt cabs cut downtime with easy engine access. They are easily tilted manually, aided by counter-balanced torsion springs. There's no linkage-disconnection problem . . . GMC's stationary control island keeps all controls in place during tilting. Routine oil and water checks can be made without tilting, through special access panels provided right inside the cab. For extra security, a triple-safe locking system holds the cab in operating position.

It pays to investigate GMC. You'll cut your shop costs and keep your trucks on the road—earning money.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 30-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Susan Morawetz, age 10, of Peterborough, Ont., for her question:

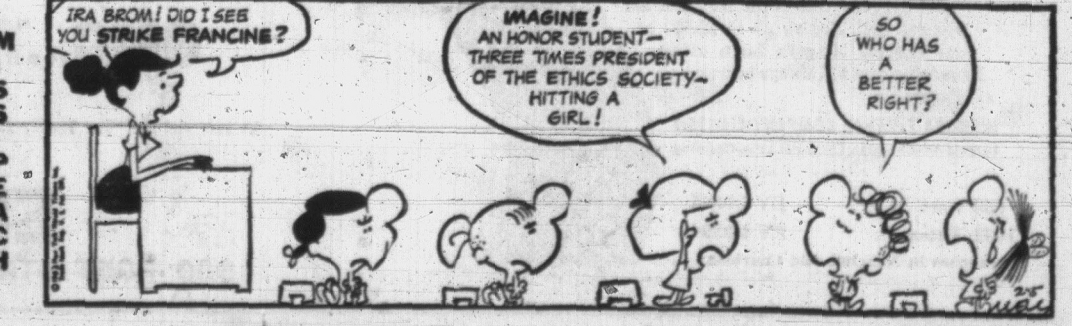

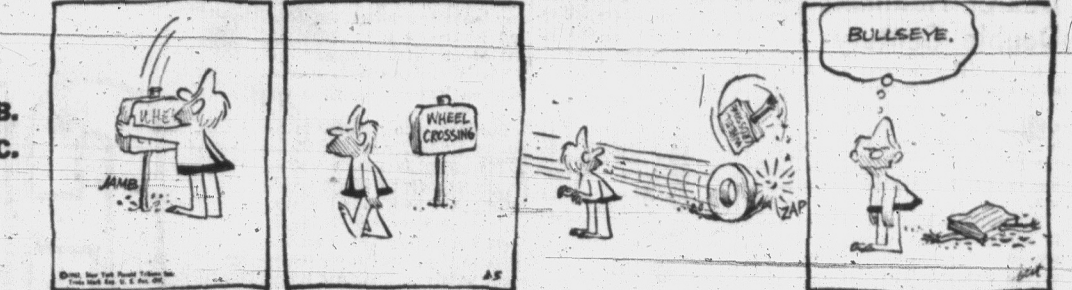

Where Do Ginkgo Trees Grow?
We find the sturdy ginkgo tree growing in parks and gardens over most of the United States and southern Canada. It even can make a living rooted in a hole dug in the cement sidewalks of a city street. It is a reliable and ornamental tree, but so far as we know, it grows wild nowhere in the world. But this was not always so. For our pretty ginkgo is the last survivor of an ancient family of trees which once forested much of the earth.

The pale ginkgo tree, tall and graceful, belongs to the ages. Its ancestors and their relatives shared the world with the dinosaurs. They covered vast areas of the land with their ferny foliage long before our oaks and elms, beeches and birches came to join the forest scenery. Some 50 million years ago, there were ginkgos across Asia, in Alaska and in much of the Northwest.

Lived in Temple Gardens

In parts of China, however, pampered pets are said to be over 1,000 years old. All the ginkgos in our parks and gardens are cultivated trees and, so far as we know, all descended from those specimens preserved in China.

In England, the ginkgo is often called the maidenhair fern tree because its pale green leaves, though thick and sparse, somewhat resemble the foliage of the dainty maidenhair-fern. The slender trunk and rather straggly boughs often reach a height of 50 feet and very old specimens have been known to grow 120 feet tall.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Robert Weede's a commuter. . . a nighttime commuter. . . Four evenings a week, about 6:30, he climbs in behind the wheel of his station wagon at Stony Point in Rockland County, N.Y., and heads down into the boiling traffic of Manhattan toward Broadway and the show he's starring in, "Milk and Honey."

"I takes me about 50 minutes," he says. "So I get to the theatre about 7:20 or 7:30. The 'half-hour call' is at 8 so I still have half an hour to play with."

Every night he's extremely conscientious of his responsibility of being there when Mimi Benzell, Molly Picon and the others arrive. And every night except one he's had it easy.

"But I got in a jam that last ice storm," he mentioned the other afternoon, in Lindy's. "I ran into the back of a policeman's car."

"He skidded and I skidded into him. I guess it's the first time in my life I ever said to a cop, 'What's the matter with you? Don't you have a directional signal?'"

This was in New Jersey in the Palisades area.

"The cop was very nice—but he did say, 'We'll have to report it.' I knew that was going to take a while. When we went before the sergeant, the policeman said, 'Look, it was an accident, and they placed no charge. I got to the theatre at 8:20—I'd phoned ahead—and they didn't have to hold the curtain.'"

"Did you mention who you were and your time problem?" I asked Weede.

"I started to," Weede smiled. "I just said, 'I have to get to a theatre.' They said, 'Oh, you were going fast?' I said, 'Oh, no, I have plenty of time.'"

Weede will hate to leave New York—as he will be doing eventually—as he has been doing, in fact, since 1940.

SONS THERE
"Some friends and I got some property around Berkeley and Oakland, Calif., around Mt. Diablo," he said. "Each year something came along. I was ready to go again last year when I heard the music of 'Milk and Honey.' I thought 'This is worth being tied up with.'"

"My sons have already gone to California to be ready for my arrival there. One's 32, the other's 29. . ."

great Roxy told him that Wiedefeld was much too long a name, and cut it to Weede.

"He stuttered or something in his first spelling and pronunciation of my new name, on his radio program, and it's been Weede since."

Weede used to criss-cross the U.S. in his car doing concerts before Broadway discovered his drawing power.

as "America's Slowest Rising Comedian." . . Billy Reed's trying to get Doris Day, the Little Club's first vocalist, to attend the cafe's 15th anniversary party, Feb. 27.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH
Actor George Sanders told how he feels about TV: "I only turn it on when something very special is being presented, such as myself."

EARL'S PEARLS: "Half my mail," writes Ray Parr of Oklahoma City, "is from loan companies eagerly speculating I might be short of cash. I still can't figure out how they all found out about it at the same time."

That's earl, brother.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP
Janet Leigh'll do personal appearances for "The Outsider" though she's not in it—she's sure it'll win an Oscar for husband Tony Curtis.

Wall Street Crackdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is preparing criminal tax fraud cases against at least a dozen stock market figures. A prominent Wall Street figure closely identified with the New York Stock Exchange is understood to be among those involved.

It was learned Sunday that a tentative decision has been made to present the most sensational case, the one involving the man with stock exchange ties, to a federal grand jury in New York this week.

A notorious New York boiler room—a brokerage firm which sells stocks through high-pressure, long-distance telephone campaigns—did not report income from operations in dubious Canadian stocks; this investigation has involved a study of the books of 20 corporations and a dozen banks and is being conducted in co-operation with Canadian authorities.

Free Parkers Face Check By Committee

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said over the weekend he would launch an investigation into the number of free parking permits.

Pointing to the 109 permits issued now, Ald. Edgelow said the situation may have "gotten out of hand."

He said he would ask city manager C. C. Wyatt to supply public works committee with a list of permit holders and the reason they were granted.

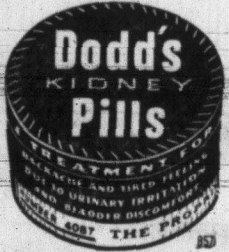

"Every one that can't be justified should be revoked, or at least not issued again," he said.

Permits to go various groups, including some disabled persons, officials from outside municipalities and outside police forces.

KILLED 'NON-BELIEVER'

MOSCOW (AP) — Four Russian church members have been sentenced to death on charges of kicking and stabbing to death a non-believer they felt had some hand in the death of two of their parishioners, the newspaper Soviet Moldavia said today.

LONDON (CP) — Canadian publisher Roy Thomson said Sunday night he would release the Earl of Snowdon from his job as artistic adviser to The Sunday Times "without demur" if there were any objections from the Royal Family itself.

During a television interview Thomson described himself as a monarchist who "would never do anything detrimental" to the monarchy. He said it was not his idea originally to employ Lord Snowdon, husband of Princess Margaret, but that he agreed with it.

Thomson, interviewed by John Freeman, editor of The New Statesman, on the BBC's Face-to-Face program, said he took Snowdon on his staff because he knew of "no other unemployed journalist" with his qualities.

The hiring of Snowdon was decided by the editor of The Sunday Times, Thomson said. "He has carte blanche to engage anyone he feels can improve the paper."

Thomson was asked whether he agreed that the Royal Family could only maintain its position if it was kept apart from controversy. He replied: "I don't think, strictly speaking, that Lord Snowdon is in the immediate Royal Family."

The Newfoundland census of 1856 showed 56 persons the aged 95 and older.

REPEAT SHOW TONIGHT

Evens Welcomed By Big Audience

By AUDREY JOHNSON

A warm "welcome home" was given, former concert master assistant conductor Clifford Evens when he made a guest appearance on the Victoria Symphony Orchestra podium Sunday afternoon.

The Royal Theatre, held a near-capacity audience for the concert which was premiered in Duncan Friday and will be repeated here tonight at 8:30. Mr. Evens, now with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, is a fine musical scholar and this is revealed in the firm exactness of his direction and the purity of detail that invests his interpretation, from contemporary Weinzweig to master romanticist Schubert.

Detail is always more immediately revealed to the ear—as well as more revealing—in a slow movement. The Schubert second movement of the "Unfinished" Symphony illustrated this in a way that was an accolade to the conductor and to the responsiveness of the orchestra.

Fine symmetry of phrase and excellent proportion in the dynamic scheme contributed to an effect of great beauty. The Dvorak G-major Symphony No. 4 with its variety of moods and rhythmic idioms proved another satisfying performance.

Poised against this traditional music was the contemporary utterance of Canadian John Weinzweig in "Symphonic Ode" and the neo-classicism of Richard Strauss' "Don Juan."

In performance of the Weinzweig, Mr. Evens proved, his musical perception to be broad and flexible to the point of illuminating unfamiliar tonal depths much as a light penetrates dark water.

Motels Welcome Tank Inspection

Notice of investigation of propane gas tanks has been welcomed by Fred Martin, president of the Victoria and South Vancouver Island local of the B.C. Auto Courts and Resorts Association.

The investigation arises as a direct result of an explosion in Vancouver which caused the death of one motel guest.

Mr. Martin, who heads a group comprising 56 motels, said most of the members are served by underground gas lines.

New paintings by Canadian artists will be available for rent by members of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria tonight from 7:30 to 8.

Monthly rental for contemporary works varies from $1 to $2.

PEDESTRIAN CATCHES TOT

LONDON (AP)—A 15-month-old baby fell 40 feet from a window and escaped apparently without injury, thanks to a passing pedestrian. Marlow Winters struck a ledge and two roofs during his fall Friday but a passing pedestrian caught the baby in his arms.

An ancient instrument of torture in England was the boot or bootikin, a wooden mallet driven forcibly between the boot and calf.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Jewelry'll Rank High For a Valentine Gift

By PENNY SAVER

After my suggestions yesterday are you still in a bit of a "flap" over what should be given to your Valentine?

Don't despair, I've several more items I'm just itching to get out from under my hat. So, read on fellows!

What could be more appropriate than hearts for the occasion? Heart-shaped lockets in sterling silver with a fine sterling chain or, if you prefer, gold-filled lockets are also available. They open with two spaces for pictures and are engraved with an ornate design. Prices range from $4.50 to $6. Why not have your initials "with love" engraved on one.

Have you ever noticed if she likes bracelets or not? Even if she doesn't wear them, the reason could possibly be that she hasn't any good ones. Bracelets I saw are a perfect answer. Sterling or gold-filled they have ornate engraving at the edges. And, you'll only have to pay from $8 to $16.

Bangles are fast becoming a favorite jewelry again and you can please her with the braided sterling ones I've seen. They sell for only $1.75 each.

Culture pearls are always "right" and a dainty necklace and earring set is something she'll be able to wear for a variety of occasions.

For $7.75 a set you'll find nothing prettier than single pearl earrings and a single pearl necklace on a fine chain.

Set along the same lines, but with a sunburst setting, sells for $6.

Please call me if you're interested in finding out where I shopped for these.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

To Keep Teeth Later, Keep Them in Tip Top Shape Now

Lovely teeth are a tremendous asset! They have such a great effect on a woman's appearance that many movie stars have their teeth capped since their careers depend a lot on their looks.

Care of your teeth also is important because of your health. Diseased teeth or gums can poison the whole system and folks who have missing teeth are likely to eat a well-balanced diet.

Losing your teeth should not be a part of growing older, but one out of every five Canadians has lost all of his teeth by the age of 40. Imagine this, in a country which has high living standards. In the older age groups, the story is much more disastrous.

For this reason, it seems helpful to know that pyorrhea is the most usual cause of tooth loss after the age of 35. Fortunately, it usually can be prevented. When one has pyorrhea the gums become puffy, bluish-red, bleed easily and, without treatment, gradually recede from the teeth. The ultimate result is loss of teeth.

Generally speaking, pyorrhea is caused or promoted by any condition which irritates the gums or places unusual strain on the structures which support the teeth; the bone, the gums, and the periodontal membrane.

While the causes of this disease are usually local, in some instances, systemic conditions may be a factor. Diabetes and other chronic diseases may encourage pyorrhea. Malocclusion, or incorrect alignment of the teeth, causes abnormal stresses when chewing and also makes the teeth more difficult to clean properly.

When a tooth is lost, the tooth above it has a tendency to lower into the space and the adjacent teeth also tend to move into the space. Because of this, normal contact is lost and food may pack between the teeth and irritate the gums.

Many nervous people constantly grind or clench their teeth. This causes undesirable pressure on the nervous habits, such as pressing the tongue against the front teeth, have the same effect.

DEAR ABBY

Trying for Six!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wear a size 12 dress, have silver blonde hair and people don't believe me when I tell them I am 61 years old. I have had five husbands, but don't jump to any conclusions. I was divorced only once and had four husbands die on me. The man who is my problem at the moment is a 50-year-old bachelor. He is well-to-do, refined and hard to get. He can never get away to see me until after his mother has gone to bed, which is about 9:30 p.m. She has him under her thumb, but good. Oh, brother, talk about a mamma's boy! How do I land this one?

"THE DUCHESS." DEAR "DUCHESS": If I told you, you'd only hate me. If you think you'd be happy married to a 50-year-old man who can't leave his mother until she's sleeping, think again. Enjoy your blessed singleness.

DEAR ABBY: I have always been able to make my own decisions, but this time I would like some help. How old should a girl be when her dolls are put away? My twelve-year-old daughter raised a terrible fuss because, when she was at school, I rearranged her bedroom and put all her dolls away. I think it helps a girl to grow up to take away all the childish toys of her babyhood. (She has had some of those dolls since she was four.) I have had several of my friends tell me I am wrong. I would like your opinion.

GOOD INTENTIONS. DEAR GOOD: Your friends are right. Your daughter's dolls should not have been put away until she herself initiated it. Older girls do not actually "play" with dolls, they just like to keep them around for ornamental and sentimental reasons.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my mother-in-law by a previous marriage; my first husband being deceased. She has become "Chief Sitting Bull" in my house. She pops in on me before noon with no notice and she sits here until 8 or 9 o'clock at night. It seems she always comes when I have something else planned. Not wanting to offend her, I quietly cancel my plans and attempt to entertain her. She doesn't have many friends, and goes practically nowhere, so she is not very good company. How can I get her to let me know in advance when she's coming? Her visits are becoming more frequent.

SITTING BULL'S VICTIM. DEAR VICTIM: Take "Sitting Bull" by the horns and ask her to let you know when she is coming so you can plan your time. When you "quietly" cancel your plans, you give her the mistaken impression that she can visit any old time because you, too, just sit around doing nothing.

Way-Edwards Vows Exchanged

Myrna Leslie Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Way of Cyril Close, was married Saturday evening to Robert William Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Albert Edwards of Madeira Park, Pender Harbor, B.C.

The wedding took place in St. John's Anglican Church with Canon George Biddle officiating.

Miss Pamela Paver sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Fred Chubb on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white satin brocade, floor-length gown with scooped neckline trimmed in tiny seed pearls. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a pearl hair. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. J. C. Stapleton, Vancouver, cousin of the bride. She wore a yellow brocade dress with accessories in tone and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations. The new Mrs. Edwards chose a light brown wool sheath, brown accessories, yellow coat and a yellow flowered hat with a corsage of pink roses as her going-away ensemble.

Following a honeymoon trip south, the newlyweds will make their home in Sechart, B.C.

Best man was David Thompson and ushering guests to their pews were Norman Edwards and Frank Gough.

Reception in the War Amps Hall, Oak Bay, followed the wedding. Pink roses and pink candles in silver candelabra flanked the three-tier wedding cake at the bride's table.

James Thompson, proposed a toast to the bride and her uncle, Rudolph Wilson, Vancouver, was master of ceremonies.

RCAF BUYS PLANES FROM U.S.

Heavy Imports Cut Trade Surplus

OTTAWA (CP) — Record-breaking imports last November slowed Canada's drive to Itch..Itch..Itch Nearly Crazy wards a trade surplus last year. Imports in the month outpaced exports for a $36,600,000 trade deficit, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. A trade surplus accumulated in the first 10 months of the year, was trimmed to $27,000,000. Government spokesmen have estimated that the year ended with a commodity trade surplus. Exports in November totalled $540,200,000, an increase of 13.6 per cent from the year earlier level of $475,700,000. There was a big gain of nearly 20 per cent in sales to the United States.

The 11-month trade surplus of $27,000,000 compared with a $108,400,000 deficit in the like period of 1960. The bureau said part of the increased export and import values reflects the reduced foreign exchange value of the Canadian dollar. This reduction has resulted in a higher price — in Canadian dollar terms — for imports and a larger Canadian dollar return for exports sold for U.S. dollars and other foreign currency.

Exports for the first 11 months of 1961 rose eight per cent to $5,350,400,000 from $4,953,800,000 in the corresponding period of 1960. Imports during January - November were 5.2 per cent higher at $5,323,400,000 compared with $5,062,200,000.

The report also indicated the November trade deficit was due in part to heavy RCAF purchases of planes. Some $16,000,000 worth of aircraft were imported from the United States, financed under mutual defence arrangements.

$100,332 HALF COST OF REPORT

"Half of the B.C. Energy Board Report on the Columbia and Peace Rivers cost $100,332, Premier Bennett disclosed Friday.

This was the amount paid to Sir Alexander Gibb and Son one of the two British firms hired as consultants for the report.

The other firm, Merz and McLellan, has not yet submitted its bill. Mr. Bennett released the information in answer to a question filed on the order paper in the legislature.

Record Snowfall
BELGRADE (AP) — Tens of thousands of citizens Sunday worked from early morning until dusk to dig this capital out from under a paralyzing blanket of snow. The town council ordered all able men from 18 to 50 to help in clearing streets after a weekend snowfall of more than three feet, the heaviest in 40 years.

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The $10 increase in the old age pension is expected to go forward to the pensioners in their end-of-February or start-of-March cheques.

There was a conviction among members of parliament on both sides of the House today that when the government introduces its pension bill this week payment of the increases will be made retroactive to Feb. 1.

Debate on the resolution calling for a measure to increase the amount of monthly pension payable to $65 a month was scheduled to get under way in the House this afternoon.

Blizzard Piles 8-Foot Drifts In Saskatoon

SASKATOON (CP)—Clear, cold weather settled over the Prairies today in the wake of a blizzard that raced through a narrow northern zone during the weekend.

The blizzard struck hardest in the Saskatoon area, where it was the worst in seven years. Drifts were four to eight feet high and visibility was cut to half a block.

The blizzard raged on a 100-mile-wide front through Whitecourt, Edmonton and Vermilion in Alberta, Saskatoon and Yorkton in Saskatchewan and then into southern Manitoba.

The storm resulted in snowfalls of 9½ inches at Edmonton, 13 inches at Saskatoon and 5½ inches at Winnipeg. The heaviest fall, 17 inches, was recorded at Whitecourt, 100 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Winds reached 48 miles an hour Sunday in Saskatoon.

PARALYZES TRAFFIC
Traffic was almost immobilized in the storm belt. No fatal accidents were reported. A Saskatchewan Transportation Commission bus and dozens of motorists were stalled overnight from Saturday to Sunday in an area about 30 miles north of Saskatoon.

The bus, carrying 33 passengers, bogged down after leaving Saskatoon early Saturday night on a 115-mile run to Prince Albert. Eighteen hours later it was dug out by two snowplows. The bus rolled into Prince Albert early Sunday.

A. F. G. Carroll, Saskatoon city engineer, estimated it will take two weeks to dig the city out of snowdrifts that blocked lanes and streets. The blizzard followed a warm spell on the Prairies in which temperatures soared well above normal.

Algeria Peace Near —De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—President de Gaulle said tonight that despite "subversive and criminal" resistance by right-wing

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—French Algeria extremists today kidnapped the director and two technicians of the state-run radio television network in Oran to prevent broadcast of President Charles de Gaulle's speech to the nation.

opponents France is moving rapidly toward peace in Algeria.

The French president, in a radio-television speech to the nation, declared that he "positively hoped" he would attain this goal very soon.

He added that France would soon make public in detail her latest proposals to end the more than seven years of savage nationalist insurrection.

De Gaulle scoffed at efforts to right-wing European activists, grouped in the clandestine Secret Army Organization, to seize power in France.

He did not make any direct reference to the state of secret negotiations with the Algerian Moslem rebels. These talks were reported to have brought the two sides close together on basic issues.

'Assassination List' Found; Seven Jailed

PARIS (AP)—Security officers announced today the arrest of seven Secret Army Organization members caught with plans to overthrow the government.

Authorities said the arrest of the men, identified as members of the secret army's operational headquarters, was the most severe blow to date against the terrorist underground in France. The secret army is sworn to prevent Algerian independence.

Authorities said documents seized included a list of police officers to be assassinated before the launching of an anti-government plot. National security police who studied the documents have begun a series of followup investigations.

Jakarta Students Stone U.S. Envoy

JAKARTA (Reuters)—About 100 angry Indonesian students today attacked the U.S. Embassy here in protest against a reported American decision to allow Dutch troop transport planes to land in U.S. territory.

The demonstration came before reports reached here of a Dutch government announcement that the U.S. would not allow charter flights carrying Dutch troops to West New Guinea to stop at American territory.

The students tore down the U.S. flag and ripped it to pieces, and plastered the building with anti-American posters.

Several members of the embassy staff were reported hit by flying glass. One suffered a cut described as minor.

A hall of stones landed near Ambassador Howard Jones while he was inside his office but an embassy statement said he was not injured. All U.S. installations were placed under guard.

TROOPS RUSH IN

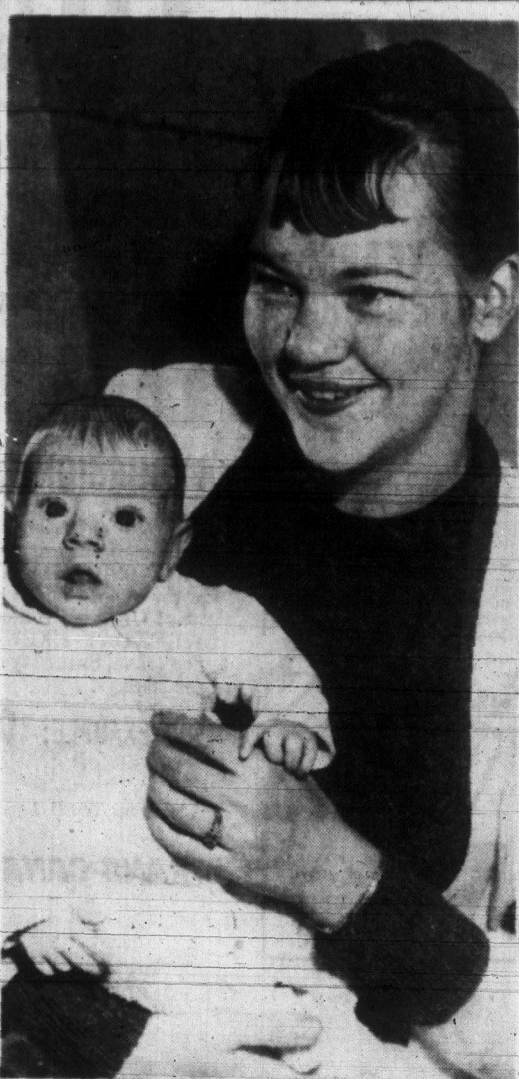

Indonesian troops and police rushed to the scene with machine-guns and rifles at the ready. They skirmished with the stone-throwing students as the demonstration was breaking up outside the embassy gates. Several were arrested.

The demonstration brought a formal protest from Jones. He told Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio the U.S. would hold the Indonesian government responsible for the outbreak.

Subandrio replied that he regretted the damage to the embassy but he said he could understand the anger and concern of the Indonesian people.

The demonstration caused considerable alarm here because of the visit next week of President Kennedy's brother, currently visiting Japan on a world tour.

Nelson Courthouse Set Afire —Mayor Calls It 'Civil War'

MRS. WILLARD and KARINA
... stronger than ever before.

BEAT 4-1 ODDS

Karina's Home Happy, Hungry

By JOHN BASSETT

Karina Marie Willard, Victoria's tiniest heroine, is back home, safe, sound and stronger than ever before.

Karina, born Oct. 25, sleeps without medication in her home at 1725 Bank Street, and like any other three-month-old baby, eats heartily every three hours, according to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Willard.

Victim of a congenital heart defect and a near-fatal accident aboard the ferry to Vancouver—Karina Marie fought 4-1 odds on her life and won. The baby had to be transferred Dec. 7 to Vancouver, where a rare operation, involving use of an artificial heart lung, could take place.

BULB FAILED

While en route, a light bulb in the baby's incubator went out and the temperature began to drop rapidly. Only the replacement with an ordinary bulb, which brought incubator temperature to 65 degrees, kept Karina alive.

Once landed at Tsawwassen, he was escorted to Vancouver General Hospital by police cars at speeds up to 70 miles per hour.

The following day, Dec. 8, a team of seven doctors headed by Dr. Phillip Ashmore of Vancouver worked over her for 3½ hours. For 35 minutes the baby lived with an artificial heart.

At the start of the operation Karina was given a one in four chance of survival. Now, seven weeks later, she is home with her parents.

STIMULANT

According to her mother the baby eats normally and is beginning to add to her 10 pounds, nine ounces. The only drug which Karina takes is a twice daily dose of lanoxin, an elixir of digitalis which stimulates the heart.

As long as the tot stays free of any infection in the next month, the doctors say she will be out of trouble.

APPEAL DENIED TO 'WITNESS'

OTTAWA (CP)—A member of the Jehovah's Witnesses failed today in a bid to take his sect's fight against blood transfusions before the Supreme Court of Canada.

The court rejected an application by Ronald Fenn Wolfe of London, Ont., for leave to appeal lower court decisions upholding the verdict of a coroner's jury which investigated the death of his infant son in London, Ont., April 15, 1960.

NEW FORM OF QUACKERY SAYS OTTAWA EXPERT

Vitamin Pills 'Money Down Drain'

QUEBEC (CP)—The federal government's top nutritional expert said today gullible Canadians have fallen for a new form of medical quackery—the consumption of huge amounts of unnecessary vitamin and mineral supplements.

Dr. J. E. Monagie, chief of the nutrition division of the federal health department, told the Canadian Fruit Wholesalers' Association annual meeting millions of dollars being wasted annually by those who respond to the "sucker bait" of the vitamin manufacturer. "For all this expenditure, probably there is no evidence to support a claim that any single customer has been shown to require vitamin or mineral supplements," he said.

"It follows then, of course, that it is even more unlikely that any single case can be validly documented to demonstrate that any individual has benefited by the use of the supplements."

Dr. Monagie described as

Trial of Douks Continues Today

NELSON (CP)—The stately Nelson courthouse felt the sting of terrorist fire Sunday night.

Incendiary devices, crudely made from half-gallon cans filled with oil, were burned in the building's entrance.

A stairwell was destroyed and walls scorched. Damage was estimated at more than $1,000.

The stone courthouse, three storeys high, has been the site for the trials of some members of the Radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, charged with acts of terrorism throughout the Kootenay area of southeastern British Columbia.

About 80 of the Sons have been arrested, 13 have been convicted and 10 sentenced to prison.

TRIALS CONTINUE

Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan of the British Columbia Supreme Court, presiding at the trials now, said court would sit today. Three of the Sons, Leo Legebockoff, Fred Jmaeff and John Dabakoff, were to be sentenced.

The fire started at 10.15 p.m. and some said there was an explosion. An earlier report that the fire squad had been called away on a false alarm minutes before the courthouse fire was discounted.

Police said terrorists entered the courthouse by breaking a rear window. They said there was blood, and a shoe print on the ledge.

Buster Wigg, a taxi driver, was sitting in a coffee shop when someone ran in to report the fire. Wigg ran to the courthouse, smashed through a glass door and, with his hands, cut off the air supply to the burning cans.

SEES MAN FLEEING
Patrick Brown, who was near the building at the time, said he would be able to identify a man he saw running from the courthouse.

RCMP officers have maintained watch on the courthouse as the Doukhobor trials proceed, and on occasion have forcefully quelled violence.

cutting at the special session, said Sunday's action "was a gesture of utter contempt for the whole structure of our society."

The attempt Sunday to fire the courthouse was the second act of its kind in the Kootenay this weekend. Three shacks south of the Freedomite settlement of Krestova were burned Friday night. Police said they were "worthless."

Cardinal Dies

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Gaetano Cardinal Ciconnani, 80, prefect of the Vatican congregation of rites, died at his home today of a heart attack. The cardinal was the brother of Amleto Cardinal Ciconnani, Vatican secretary of state.

Missionaries Safe

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Thirteen American missionary women and children have been evacuated from the Presbyterian mission at Bibanga in south Kasai province, scene of new military tensions caused by insubordinate Congolese troops, consular officials announced today.

Convict Flees

MONTREAL (CP)—Roger Ducharme, 30-year-old convict serving 14 years for attempting to murder a policeman, overpowered two guards to escape early today from St. Luke Hospital.

Hockey Appeal Sent

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has appealed to the International Ice Hockey Federation to take "all possible steps" to ensure full representation at the March world amateur championship at Colorado Springs, Colo.

4TH VICTIM

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—A 39-year-old police sergeant was found beaten to death in his squad car at the edge of a water-filled quarry today.

He was the fourth Wisconsin police officer to be slain on duty during the last seven months.

BREAK UP SECT, MAYOR PLEADS

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Mayor Tom Shorthouse said today "civil war" in this southeast Kootenay district of British Columbia is threatening the lives of peace-loving citizens.

He made his comment after a terrorist bomb exploded in the courthouse Sunday causing an estimated $2,000 worth of damage. A special assize in the courthouse trying Sons of Freedom Doukhobors on various charges connected with terrorism continued today. Eighty members of the radical sect have been arrested and 13 convicted.

Mr. Shorthouse demanded that the Sons of Freedom settlement of Krestova, 30 miles west of here, be broken up.

He said the village, the sect's capital, is a "retreat or hideaway for ruthless criminals."

"These people have been burning and bombing their own communal properties. That is bad enough, but now they are moving contemptuously against our courts and our country and this is intolerable."

He said the Freedomites should be dispersed throughout Canada.

"Surely this must prove to our legislators in Victoria and Ottawa that civil war exists and threatens the lives of peace-loving citizens."

"Do people have to be killed before the apathy will end and the government will act on this terror that has plagued this country for 40 years or more."

Bypass UN, Mac Urges

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan today urged direct East-West negotiations rather than action through the United Nations as the best way to improve the international situation.

He had earlier told the House of Commons that the UN Security Council has been made impotent because of conditions unforeseen in 1945, when the world body's charter was drawn up at San Francisco.

Macmillan was speaking in a debate on an opposition Labor motion censuring Foreign Secretary the Earl of Home for a speech Dec. 28 criticizing the UN.

"It is no good neglecting these facts," he said. "We must understand them and see whether a healthier situation may some day emerge."

DETEENTE
"I think this can only be done if we reach some kind of detente, some kind of working arrangement, not through the United Nations, but through direct negotiations, between East and West.

"We tried hard enough two years ago at the abortive Paris summit conference, but we were disappointed."

"I am not without hope, after this interval, that some new turn of events may open up these possibilities again."

Macmillan said the balance of nuclear power is maintaining the "uneasy peace" in the world today.

The United Nations can never be made to work unless political conditions can be created in the world which allow the Security Council to operate, not for perpetual propaganda purposes, not as a body permanently divided but gradually as a team."

U.S. Transport Downed in Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A transport plane was shot down by hostile forces Sunday while flying over the Plaines des Jarres on an air drop to government forces in the area, it was learned today.

The American pilot and copilot and four Laotian crew members were killed in the crash in the hill country east of the Plaines des Jarres.

The C-46 was operated by Air America, a civilian firm set up by the American government to provide the Laotian army with air transport.

Air America said it was on a normal mission dropping rice and other commodities to refugees and army units.

It was not immediately known whether it has been shot down by neutralist troops, pro-Communist Pathet Lao or anti-aircraft weapons manned by North Vietnamese soldiers.

SHELL LANDS NEAR PREMIER

VIENTIANE (AP)—A mortar shell just missed Laotian Premier Prince Boua Oum today as he was leaving the besieged northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha after an inspection, his finance minister said.

"As we took off from Nam Tha, a mortar shell fell just where our plane had stood," Finance Minister Phouangphet Phanareth told reporters.

Reinforcements Land

NAM THA, Laos—Royal Army transport planes defied Communist mortar fire aimed at Nam Tha's airstrip Sunday and landed reinforcements at the menaced provincial capital.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

FEBRUARY 5

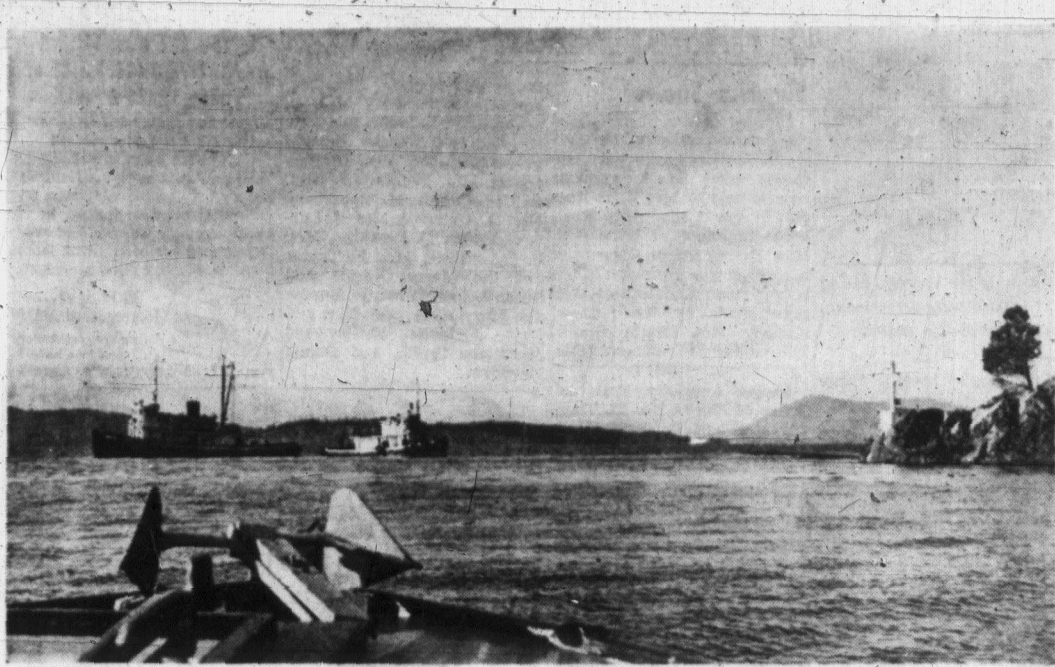

Two litigants who had a suit pending in the Summary Court settled the matter out of court in their own way. Walking together across the James Bay Bridge, they fell to arguing, first verbally, then with fists. Interested spectators watched until one of the men cried "Hold, enough," then led the victor away. The suit will be withdrawn from the courts.

The Hudson's Bay ship Princess Royal, inbound from London, went aground on Shoal Point while being towed into the inner harbor by the company's steamer Otter. Citizens eagerly awaited high tide for the ship to be floated off, as she was said to carry a valuable and varied cargo.

A new rule went into effect at the debtor's prison, banning the daily half gallon of beer which was customarily sent in from a neighboring inn. There are four men in the prison at present.

Fast on rocks of D'Arcy Island is Island Despatcher, between tug Sirmac and navigation light.

Tug Refloated From Precarious Perch

The 76-foot Victoria tug Island Despatcher, which spent several hours Sunday on a reef immediately west of D'Arcy Island, opposite Island View Beach, was scheduled for survey this afternoon on the ways at Point Hope Ship Yards Ltd.

The vessel struck at 4 a.m. while en route from here to Vananda, on Texada Island, with two scows in tow. She stayed on her precarious perch until 2:30 p.m., when she was floated off and towed to Victoria by the tug Sirmac.

Both are owned by Island Tug and Barge Ltd. Fred Skinner, company marine superintendent, said today the tug was in a "ticklish" position for a few hours at low tide, with her bow high on the rocks and water lapping over her stern.

"The crew put lines ashore to help keep her steady," he said.

Island Challenger took over her tow and Sirmac stood by while waiting for high water. Mr. Skinner said Despatcher possibly could have reached Victoria under her own power, but that she was towed in order not to increase possible damage.

D'Arcy Island lies to the right of northbound traffic between Cadboro Point and Sidney Channel, between James and Sidney Islands. There is a light on the western side of the island, facing the waterway, which also is marked by a light and beacon on Zero Rock.

Ferry Compass, Radar Called Haywire By Crusty Skipper

The skipper of the Thetis Island ferry which went "missing" Friday night, today fired back at Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi for his implied criticism of the ferry's eight-hour journey in thick fog.

Mr. Gagliardi is not a seafaring man," said Capt. C. W. Crofts of William Head.

Mr. Gagliardi had said there was no reason for the 60-foot ferry to become lost in the fog on the four-mile journey between the island and its Chemainus terminal, and that "it won't happen again."

"That ferry is owned completely by the department of highways and there doesn't appear to be reason for such difficulty to arise in such a short trip as that," he said. "My officials reported to me it was really unnecessary for this to happen."

Capt. Crofts, 65, a relief skipper on the ferry since Christmas, said any sparring man would say he had no aids to navigation.

"The compass on that ferry is as much as 60 degrees out, the radar is more like a direction finder, and the ship's whistle is too weak to get an echo off the beach," he said.

"You use dead reckoning to cross that channel, and if you can't see where you're going you must stop and anchor."

"I can't understand why the ferry has no radio. I was unable to communicate with anyone. I couldn't get a course off the chart — the compass deviation was too great. The compass is next to useless."

SAFETY FIRST

He said that he had decided for safety's sake to stay put until the fog had lifted, rather than risk hitting a tug, reef, rock or log boom in the area.

"Mr. Gagliardi only knows what others tell him. I've been on the sea for 46 years. I've been a master for 15 years and if anyone thinks I can't handle a 60-foot boat in a six-mile channel, he's dead wrong," said Capt. Crofts.

The government operates 67 ferries — 54 in the highways department and 13 in the Toll Authority. Mr. Gagliardi said all department vessels will have radio communications with shore points before the end of this year.

"As far as radio on the Thetis Island ferry is concerned, if they want it tomorrow, we'll put it in," Mr. Gagliardi said. "No one had recommended to me that the ferries needed radios."

MONTE ROBERTS

Had a few words with Premier Bennett Saturday, just before he went aboard the new ferry, and missed a chance to make a funny little funny.

Said I to the premier: "You keep on getting ships, you're going to need an admiral's hat."

Said Premier Bennett: "I already have an admiral's hat. Wish you'd brought it with you," I said. "We'd love to run a picture of you in an admiral's hat."

"Wouldn't you," said the premier. "Some people already call me a power-czar. They'd start calling me a marine czar."

So I laughed feebly, and that was that. Having missed the obvious payoff line: "Oh, you mean a Little Sea Czar?"

But I did gain something from my visit to the sendoff for the new ferry.

I received a free copy of Beautiful British Columbia, which retails at fifty cents per copy, and would be good value at a dollar.

It is a well-known fact that I do not always cheer loudly for the present government of B.C., but it deserves a hearty "hear, hear" for this excellent publication — in which the photography and reproduction of same are a delight to the eye.

It is in the spirit of good will only that I point to page 43, whereon it is stated that, a century ago, the trip from Victoria to Nanaimo was a four-hour voyage by sea.

Hmmmm. Eighty-eight nautical miles in four hours works out to an average 22 knots. And 100 years later, the best MV City of Victoria can do is a mile over 18 knots.

Still in the spirit of good will and sweetness and light (see what even a brief encounter with our fun-loving premier can do for a person), I would like to suggest a solution to the problem of Princess Margaret, who appears to think the island we gave her belongs to her.

Let someone explain to her we gave her the island on a homestead, or mining claim, basis: she is required to spend a certain number of days working on the property to retain title.

Wowee! What a tourist attraction!

TOPICS OF THE DAY

There will be increasing clouds tonight and Tuesday with a few showers, weatherman William Mackie said today.

"There also will be some partial clearing," he said.

Temperatures are on the chilly side because of Arctic air near by on the mainland, and will range between 40 degrees tonight and 47 Tuesday. Winds will be from north to east at from 15 to 20 miles per hour.

The local branch of the Canadian Authors' Association will hold an open meeting in the Douglas Cafeteria Building Thursday at 8 p.m. The guest speaker will be Roland Goodchild on the subject, "Problems of the Short Story Writer."

Five groups of Boy Scouts from the Victoria and Sidney areas participated in an overnight "penetration" exercise on the Saanich peninsula starting Saturday at 10 p.m. and finishing Sunday about 6 a.m.

Four of the "armies" attempted to infiltrate each other's lines by using compass and woodcraft while a fifth, composed of Scout Leaders and Rovers picked off any and all combatants.

Winners of the bi-monthly winners' game tournament of the American Contract Bridge League, Victoria unit, were Otto Lesment and Bill Simpson-Baile, north-south, and George Morgan and Joe Lukas, east-west.

Lawrence Fieldhouse, 819 Colville, was elected president of the Canadian Legion, Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42, last week at the group's annual meeting.

Also elected to office were: Leonard Howe, first vice-president; Alec Sinclair, second vice-president, and H. W. Mayne, treasurer.

Directors are: G. Fieldhouse, E. Hornsby, J. Anderson, C. Ashton, D. Scholes, W. McBay, R. Nutter, M. Haynes, R. Raine and H. Lamb.

The Esquimalt council will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Municipal Hall.

B.C. Power Commission chairman Dr. H. L. Keenleyside has been in Royal Jubilee Hospital since Wednesday night "for a checkup."

He is expected to be home again Tuesday, said a government official.

"The official said that there is 'nothing serious' about the health of the B.C. Hydro chairman, who will be 64 in July.

This is your chance — this is the year to hit the jackpot, according to Victoria's Chinese who are celebrating their New Year today — the Year of the Tiger.

They say their astrologers predict, for the year 4655, plenty of money for those who want more cash and an abundance of happiness for those who don't.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Electric Club: Net Loft, 12:30 noon; speaker, J. M. Bogvo, "At Your Fingertip."

Kiwanis Club of Victoria North: Tally Ho, 6:15 p.m.; speaker, Gil Gilmore, "Early Days in Radio."

Advance tickets for the French Film Committee's first film Feb. 19 went on sale today at the Marionette Book Shop.

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" will be shown at 4 and 8 p.m. in the Fox Theatre.

The newly formed committee is composed of local citizens devoted to furthering understanding of French culture by showing top movies from that country.

More "togetherness" in the horse fraternity on Vancouver Island is the aim of a group of owners and riders which met here Saturday night.

The "togetherness" idea is twofold.

Main object is to promote dressage — a high degree of training which requires the rider to teach his horse to respond to aids (heel, knee, thigh pressures, rein positions) not detectable to the untrained eye. It is perfection in horsemanship.

Through this training of "togetherness" between rider and horse, it is hoped a large number of riders, whether they are interested in showing or strictly pleasure riding, English or Western, will meet regularly to assist each other.

The group is headed by Mrs. Joan Dunbar, 1007 Joan Crescent, at whose home the meeting was held. She will be assisted by Mrs. Daphne Barnes who will be the "contact" in the Duncan area. It is planned also to organize a third group in the central Island district.

For Victoria "operations" a Shelbourne Street field owned by veteran horseman Bob Shanks has been offered for training sessions.

It is hoped that as training progresses, experts in dressage will be obtained to give pointers and offer criticism.

But for the start, it is planned to use book instruction on a co-operative basis with some of the more advanced local riders assisting the less ac-

FORUM FOR WOMEN ON SUNDAY

Test Gives 10-Year Cancer Tipoff

Recent advances in earlier detection of women's cancer can only realize their full life saving potential if every woman over 20 acts upon them, a spokesman for the Victoria unit of the Canadian Cancer Society said today.

Mrs. Marian Corby, women's education chairman of the unit, urged all women to learn the facts about new medical advances by attending a free cancer forum "For Women Only" in the Odeon Theatre Sunday at 3 p.m.

The forum is sponsored jointly by Victoria Times and the cancer society and will be highlighted by a showing of the new life-saving film "Time and Two Women."

SIMPLE TEST

This film tells with clarity and good taste how a simple annual test promises to virtually eliminate one important form of cancer — cancer of the cervix — as a cause of death among women.

"We believe this is one of the most important educational programs for women ever held in our area," says Mrs. Corby. "I sincerely urge every woman over 20 to attend."

Copies of the new educational pamphlet "If You Only Knew..." will be distributed to those attending.

ONE OF SERIES

The special forum is one of a series being held throughout British Columbia.

Doctors all over the province have been co-operating in the development of a mass screening program for earlier detection of uterine cancer. It is a simple matter for a family doctor to take a sample of body fluid from a patient, fix it on a slide and send it to the cytology laboratory at the B.C.

Cancer Institute where it is examined carefully under a high-powered microscope.

Skilled specialists at the institute can detect cell changes which indicate cancer up to 10 years before symptoms appear.

This diagnostic service is provided free to the provinces' doctors and the only charge to the patient is the normal fee for a regular physical check-up.

A panel of four doctors will answer questions at the forum on Sunday.

They are Dr. Arthur B. Nash, Victoria; a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology;

Dr. D. B. Roxburgh, pathology specialist at St. Joseph's Hospital; Dr. H. K. Fidler, director of the Cytology Laboratory at the B.C. Cancer Institute in Vancouver; and Dr. David-Boyes, associate director of the laboratory and specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

Aqua-Theatre Plan Dropped

Centennial Group Can't Get Airborne

By JOHN MIKA

Centennial planning is still stumbling from one fiasco to another one month after the city's centenary opened.

That became painfully obvious today as the Victoria centennial advisory committee met for two hours and learned that:

It cannot afford the "Aqua-theatre" floating stage at Banfield Park to present outdoor centennial productions.

Several major presentations suggested for the celebrations still have not been firmed up so that a final calendar of events could be set.

It has no director of publicity or advertising to co-ordinate and carry out a promotion program here and on the mainland.

It has no one signed yet to write the historical pageant planned as the main event of the whole celebration to coincide with the Aug. 2 ceremonies marking the 100th birthday of the incorporation of the city.

WRANGLES

The meeting, along with progress reports from various sub-committee chairmen, was marked by several wrangles between chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and various members.

Committee voted to drop the aqua-theatre proposal because it would cost $48,000 to equip a donated barge as a stage and provide seating, parking and toilets for 1,200 persons at the park's shore.

But before the decision was made, a clumsy breakdown in the committee's organization was revealed.

Glyn Jones, chairman of the events sub-committee, pointed out he needed to know if the aqua-theatre was to be implemented or not so that he would know what stage facilities would be available for various attractions he was trying to book.

Retiring centennial co-ordinator Archie Willis said it had been more or less decided a month ago to drop the aqua-theatre.

DIDN'T KNOW

"Well, that's news to my committee," snapped Mr. Jones.

"I wish we could be informed," he told Ald. Edgelow. Ald. Edgelow said there had been little enthusiasm shown for the idea by the executive committee.

He added that Memorial Arena could be used for stage productions, apparently ignoring the fact that the advisory committee originally proposed an outdoor stage because the arena would not be suitable or available for all the centennial year productions that could be held.

Ald. Edgelow also clashed with Mr. Jones and Mr. Willis over a proposed $400 underwriting for Victoria Musical Art Society if its opera production May 25 in Oak Bay Junior High School loses money.

Ald. Edgelow at first, to the obvious anger of Mr. Jones, said recommendation should be referred to the executive because "it's the first time I've heard of it."

However, Mr. Jones pointed out the advisory committee referred the question to him at the last meeting and asked for a report. Other committee members agreed and the secretary said it was in the minutes.

IN THE CITY

Next, Ald. Edgelow said any attractions receiving centennial help, like the opera, should be held within the city's boundaries.

"Well, that's the kind of thing the outside municipalities might say, but surely Victoria is too big to do that," said Mr. Willis.

Ald. Edgelow insisted the production should be in the city but committee outvoted him after it was pointed out that Oak Bay Junior High School was part of the Greater Victoria school system and had the only sloping floor outside of the Royal Theatre which the society could not afford.

In other discussions, Ald. Edgelow admitted that "several major attractions still have to be tied in" before a pamphlet or folder on the calendar of events can be printed to distribute to tourists and residents.

Other advertising and promotion "gimmicks" — such as posters and car stickers — have not been considered yet because no publicity co-ordinator has been appointed yet, he admitted.

33 YEARS

"I left my retreat in the Himalayas to come to North America and tell the peoples of the United States and Canada that there will be no total war until 1995."

"They can live in peace for 33 years to come. And even then total destructive war may be avoided if we change our thinking."

Chaman Lal said a third world war in 1995 was predicted way back in 1914 by the Hindu prophet Anandacharya, who died in 1945.

"He said 'the spirits will fight over inconceivable distances' — an obvious reference to guided missiles."

"In that same year he also predicted that the Second World War would start in 1939. In 1914 he said 'This war is a village riot compared to what is coming in 25 years' time.' And he was right."

METALS MISUSED

The prophet Anandacharya (according to Chaman Lal) said mankind would be wiped out by the third world war because of its misuse of metals.

"He said mankind has misused metals for centuries and the metals will take their revenge so that none will escape."

"But I believe that final catastrophe can be averted if we change our thinking and will it not to happen."

SEEKING TOUR

Chaman Lal addressed several Hindu meetings in Victoria over the weekend and will soon begin a speaking tour of the United States. He said he worked as editor and reporter for 40 years before becoming a Buddhist monk in 1955.

He was on the staff of the Hindustan Times in New Delhi for 16 years and during that time became friendly with Nehru and Gandhi.

"I was imprisoned nine times for following Gandhi's cause," he said. "But I have no bitterness against the British. We are good friends now."

WORLD SAFE UNTIL 1995 SAYS MONK

The world is safe until 1995. That was the message brought to Victoria today by Chaman Lal, a Buddhist monk from the Himalayas.

"There is nothing to fear from the prophecies of the Hindu sages in India," he said. "The world will not end — but mankind may be destroyed by a third world war in 1995."

Chaman Lal came to the city office clad in the yellow robes of his order and dismissed all the disasters predicted by Hindu astrologers as "pure superstition."

"There will be no disaster," he declared in his crisp precise English. "But the panic in North America over a third world war is almost as bad as the fear among my own peoples."

Fast on rocks of D'Arcy Island is Island Despatcher, between tug Sirmac and navigation light.

Tug Refloated From Precarious Perch

The 76-foot Victoria tug Island Despatcher, which spent several hours Sunday on a reef immediately west of D'Arcy Island, opposite Island View Beach, was scheduled for survey this afternoon on the ways at Point Hope Ship Yards Ltd.

MONTE ROBERTS

Had a few words with Premier Bennett Saturday, just before he went aboard the new ferry, and missed a chance to make a funny little funny.

Said I to the premier: "You keep on getting ships, you're going to need an admiral's hat."

Said Premier Bennett: "I already have an admiral's hat." "Wish you'd brought it with you," I said. "We'd love to run a picture of you in an admiral's hat."

"Wouldn't do," said the premier. "Some people already call me a power czar. They'd start calling me a marine czar."

So I laughed freely, and that was that. Having missed the obvious payoff line:

"Oh, you mean a Little Sea Czar?"

But I did gain something from my visit to the sendoff for the new ferry.

I received a free copy of Beautiful British Columbia, which retails at fifty cents per copy, and would be good value at a dollar.

It is a well-known fact that I do not always cheer loudly for the present government of B.C., but it deserves a hearty "Hear, hear" for this excellent publication in which the photography and reproduction of same are a delight to the eye.

It is in the spirit of good will only that I point to page 43, whereon it is stated that, a century ago, the trip from Victoria to Nanaimo was a four-hour voyage by sea.

Hmmmm. Eighty-eight nautical miles in four hours works out to an average 22 knots. And 100 years later, the best M.V. City of Victoria can do is a nite over 18 knots.

Still in the spirit of good will and sweetness and light (see what even a brief encounter with our fun-loving premier can do for a person), I would like to suggest a solution to the problem of Princess Margaret, who appears to think the island we gave her belongs to her.

Let someone explain to her we gave her the island on a homestead, or mining claim, basis: she is required to spend a certain number of days working on the property to retain title.

Wowee! What a tourist attraction!

TOPICS OF THE DAY

There will be increasing clouds tonight and Tuesday with a few showers, weatherman William Mackie said today.

"There also will be some partial clearing," he said.

Temperatures are on the chilly side because of Arctic air near by on the mainland, and will range between 40 degrees tonight and 47 Tuesday. Winds will be from north to east at from 15 to 20 miles per hour.

The local branch of the Canadian Authors' Association will hold an open meeting in the Douglas Cafeteria Building Thursday at 8 p.m. The guest speaker will be Roland Goodchild on the subject, "Problems of the Short Story Writer."

ASK THE TIMES

Q. What are "P's" and "Q's"? T.R.L.

A. Several explanations exist for the derivation of the phrase "Mind your P's and Q's." It might have been an admonition to children learning the alphabet or to printers' apprentices sorting type in view of the similarity of the letters in appearance. It might have been a warning to customers of a drinking house to watch that they didn't pay for quarts instead of pints when settling up. It might have been used by dancing masters during the reign of Louis XIV to make students pay attention to their "pleads" (feet) and "queues" (wigs) when bowing. The phrase also might refer to abbreviated forms of "please" and "thank you."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and not of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

The Victoria Camera Club will meet Wednesday at 7.45 p.m. in the St. John Ambulance Hall. A recorded lecture, "Pictorial Photography from the Chinese Viewpoint," will be shown.

Five groups of Boy Scouts from the Victoria and Sidney areas participated in an overnight "penetration" exercise on the Saanich peninsula starting Saturday at 10 p.m. and finishing Sunday about 6 a.m.

Four of the "armies" attempted to infiltrate each other's lines by using compass and woodcraft while a fifth, composed of Scout Leaders and Rovers picked off any and all combatants.

Winners of the bi-monthly winners' game tournament of the American Contract Bridge League, Victoria unit, were Otto Leisment and Bill Simpson-Baile, north-south, and George Morgan and Joe Lukas, east-west.

Lawrence Fieldhouse, 819 Colville, was elected president of the Canadian Legion, Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42, last week at the group's annual meeting.

Also elected to office were: Leonard Howe, first vice-president; Alec Sinclair, second vice-president, and H. W. Mayne, treasurer.

Directors are: G. Fieldhouse, E. Hornsby, J. Anderson, C. Ashton, D. Scholes, W. McBay, R. Nutter, M. Haynes, R. Raine and H. Lamb.

The Esquimalt council will meet tonight at 7.30 in the Municipal Hall.

B.C. Power Commission chairman Dr. H. L. Keenleyside has been in Royal Jubilee Hospital since Wednesday night "for a checkup."

He is expected to be home again Tuesday, said a government official.

The official said that there is "nothing serious" about the health of the B.C. Hydro chairman, who will be 64 in July.

Both are owned by Island Tug and Barge Ltd. Fred Skinner, company marine superintendent, said today the tug was in a "ticklish" position for a few hours at low tide, with her bow high on the rocks and water lapping over her stern.

"The crew put lines ashore to help keep her steady," he said.

Island Challenger took over her tow and Sirmac stood by while waiting for high water. Mr. Skinner said Despatcher possibly could have reached Victoria under her own power, but that she was towed in order not to increase possible damage.

AT FIRST I WAS PRETTY UPSET... IT WAS A REAL EMOTIONAL BLOW... ALL SORTS OF THINGS WENT THROUGH MY MIND...

IT'S KIND OF NICE TO BE ABLE TO SEE WHAT'S GOING ON!

THE COMPASS ON THAT FERRY IS AS MUCH AS 60 DEGREES OFF, the radar is more like a direction finder, and the ship's whistle is too weak to get an echo off the beach," he said. "You use dead reckoning to cross that channel, and if you can't see where you're going you must stop and anchor. "I can't understand why the ferry has no radio. I was unable to communicate with anyone. I couldn't get a course off the chart — the compass deviation was too great. The compass is next to useless."

SAFETY FIRST
He said that he had decided for safety's sake to stay put until the fog had lifted, rather than risk hitting a tug, rock or log boom in the area.

"Mr. Gagliardi only knows what others tell him. I've been on the sea for 46 years. I've been a master for 15 years and if anyone thinks I can't handle a 60-foot boat in a six-mile channel, he's dead wrong," said Capt. Crofts.

The government operates 67 ferries — 54 in the highways department and 13 in the Toll Authority. Mr. Gagliardi said all department vessels will have radio communications with shore points before the end of this year.

"As far as radio on the Thetis Island ferry is concerned, if they want it tomorrow, we'll put it in," Mr. Gagliardi said. "No one had recommended to me that the ferries needed radios."

Advances tickets for the French Film Committee's first film Feb. 19 went on sale today at the Marionette Book Shop.

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" will be shown at 4 and 8 p.m. in the Fox Theatre.

The newly formed committee is composed of local citizens devoted to furthering understanding of French culture by showing top movies from that country.

More "togetherness" in the horse fraternity on Vancouver Island is the aim of a group of owners and riders which met here Saturday night.

The "togetherness" idea is twofold.

Main object is to promote dressage — a high degree of training which requires the rider to teach his horse to respond to aids (heel, knee, thigh pressures, rein positions) not detectable to the untrained eye. It is perfection in horsemanship. Through this training of "togetherness" between rider and horse, it is hoped a larger number of riders, whether they are interested in showing or strictly pleasure riding, English or Western, will meet regularly to assist each other.

The group is headed by Mrs. Joan Dunbar, 1007 Joan Crescent, at whose home the meeting was held. She will be assisted by Mrs. Daphne Barnes who will be the "contact" in the Duncan area. It is planned also to organize a third group in the central Island district.

For Victoria "operations" a Shelbourne Street field owned by veteran horseman Bob Shanks has been offered for training sessions.

It is hoped that as training progresses, experts in dressage will be obtained to give pointers and offer criticism.

But for the start, it is planned to use book instruction on a co-operative basis with some of the more advanced local riders assisting the less ac-

Ferry Compass, Radar Called Haywire By Crusty Skipper

The skipper of the Thetis Island ferry which went "missing" Friday night today fired back at Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi for his implied criticism of the ferry's eight-hour journey in thick fog.

Mr. Gagliardi is not a seafaring man," said Capt. C. W. Crofts of William Head.

Mr. Gagliardi had said there was no reason for the 60-foot ferry to become lost in the fog on the four-mile journey between the island and its Chemainus terminal, and that "it won't happen again."

"That ferry is owned completely by the department of highways and there doesn't appear to be reason for such difficulty to arise in such a short trip as that," he said. "My officials reported to me it was really unnecessary for this to happen."

Capt. Crofts, 65, a relief skipper on the ferry since Christmas, said any seafaring man would say he had no aids to navigation.

"They've got some darn good ideas and we'll give them full study," he commented on proposals by Local 109, Smelted Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America.

Curbside bus zones lengthened in areas where at peak times buses are forced to double-park.

Stricter policing of bus zones to keep cars and trucks out of them.

Improved visibility at crosswalks by removing close parking and double parking.

BURGLAR 'JUST GOT STARTED' WHEN HOUSEHOLDERS RETURN

A burglar took to his heels Sunday night when disturbed by the returning occupants of a house he had broken into.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Logan, 1465 Fort, returned home about 9.30 p.m. and as their car swung around the headlights picked out the intruder in the living room.

"I think he had just got started," Mr. Logan said. "He had gone through some drawers but didn't get anything."

Mr. Logan chased the man West on Fort Street but he got away.

The would-be thief entered the Logan home through a window.

Completed, as well as each other.

The idea of dressage promotion on the Island follows a well received demonstration at a show of Victoria Western Horsemen's Club at Saanichton last fall by two experts, Miss Inez Fischer-Credo and her Thoroughbred mare, Gordina, from Vancouver.

Miss Fischer-Credo attended the Saturday night meeting to offer encouragement in the Island plan, and to show films on Olympic competition in the "art" of dressage.

FORUM FOR WOMEN ON SUNDAY

Test Gives 10-Year Cancer Tipoff

Recent advances in earlier detection of women's cancer can only realize their full life saving potential if every woman over 20 acts upon them, a spokesman for the Victoria unit of the Canadian Cancer Society said today.

Mrs. Marian Corby, women's education, chairman of the unit, urged all women to learn the facts about new medical advances by attending a free cancer forum "For Women Only" in the Odeon Theatre Sunday at 3 p.m.

The forum is sponsored jointly by Victoria Times and the cancer society and will be highlighted by a showing of the new life-saving film "Time and Two Women."

SIMPLE TEST

This film tells with clarity and good taste how a simple annual test promises to virtually eliminate one important form of cancer — cancer of the cervix — as a cause of death among women.

"We believe this is one of the most important educational programs for women ever held in our area," says Mrs. Corby. "I sincerely urge every woman over 20 to attend."

Copies of the new educational pamphlet "If You Only Knew..." will be distributed to those attending.

ONE OF SERIES

The special forum is one of a series being held throughout British Columbia.

Doctors all over the province have been co-operating in the development of a mass screening program for earlier detection of uterine cancer. It is a simple matter for a family doctor to take a sample of body fluid from a patient, fix it on a slide and send it to the cytology laboratory at the B.C.

Cancer Institute where it is examined carefully under a high-powered microscope.

Skilled specialists at the institute can detect cell changes which indicate cancer up to 10 years before symptoms appear.

This diagnostic service is provided free to the provinces' doctors and the only charge to the patient is the normal fee for a regular physical check-up.

A panel of four doctors will answer questions at the forum on Sunday.

They are Dr. Arthur B. Nash, Victoria; a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology;

Dr. D. B. Roxburgh, pathology specialist at St. Joseph's Hospital; Dr. H. K. Fidler, director of the Cytology Laboratory at the B.C. Cancer Institute in Vancouver; and Dr. David Boyes, associate director of the laboratory and specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

Aqua-Theatre Plan Dropped

Centennial Group Can't Get Airborne

By JOHN MIKA

Centennial planning is still stumbling from one fiasco to another one month after the city's centenary opened.

That became painfully obvious today as the Victoria centennial advisory committee met for two hours and learned that:

It cannot afford the "Aqua-theatre" floating stage at Banfield Park to present outdoor centennial productions;

Several major presentations suggested for the celebrations still have not been firmed up so that a final calendar of events could be set;

It has no director of publicity or advertising to co-ordinate and carry out a promotion program here and on the mainland;

It has no one signed yet to write the historical pageant planned as the main event of the whole celebration to coincide with the Aug. 2 ceremony marking the 100th birthday of the incorporation of the city.

WRANGLES

The meeting, along with progress reports from various sub-committee chairmen, was marked by several wrangles between chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and various members.

Committee voted to drop the aqua-theatre proposal because it would cost $48,000 to equip a donated barge as a stage and provide seating, parking and toilets for 1,200 persons at the park's shore.

But before the decision was made, a clumsy breakdown in liaison within the committee was revealed.

Glyn Jones, chairman of the events sub-committee, pointed out he needed to know if the aqua-theatre was to be implemented or not so that he would know what stage facilities would be available for various attractions he was trying to book.

Retiring centennial co-ordinator Archie Wills said it had been more or less decided a month ago to drop the aqua-theatre.

DIDN'T KNOW

"Well, that's news to my committee," snapped Mr. Jones.

"I wish we could be informed," he told Ald. Edgelow.

Ald. Edgelow said there had been little enthusiasm shown for the idea by the executive committee.

He added that Memorial Arena could be used for stage productions, apparently ignoring the fact that the advisory committee originally proposed an outdoor stage because the arena would not be suitable or available for all the centennial year productions that could be held.

Ald. Edgelow also clashed with Mr. Jones and Mr. Wills over a proposed $400 underwriting for Victoria Musical Art Society if its opera production May 25 in Oak Bay Junior High School loses money.

Ald. Edgelow at first, to the obvious anger of Mr. Jones, said recommendation should be referred to the executive because "it's the first time I've heard of it."

However, Mr. Jones pointed out the advisory committee referred the question to him at the last meeting and asked for a report. Other committee members agreed and the secretary said it was in the minutes.

IN THE CITY

Next, Ald. Edgelow said any attractions receiving centennial help, like the opera, should be held within the city's boundaries.

Well, that's the kind of thing the outside municipalities might say, but surely Victoria is too big to do that," said Mr. Wills.

Ald. Edgelow insisted the production should be in the city but committee outvoted him after it was pointed out that Oak Bay Junior High School was part of the Greater Victoria school system and had the only sloping floor outside of the Royal Theatre which the society could not afford.

In other discussions, Ald. Edgelow admitted that "several major attractions still have to be tied in" before a pamphlet or folder on the calendar of events can be printed to distribute to tourists and residents.

Other advertising and promotion "gimmicks" — such as posters and car stickers — have not been considered yet because no publicity co-ordinator has been appointed yet, he admitted.

William Anderson, 930 Runnymede, was treated for a scalp laceration and released.

Damage to the vehicles was described as medium.

Karina's Home
Happy, Hungry

By JOHN BASSETT

Karina, Marie Willard, Victoria's littlest heroine, is back home, safe, sound and stronger than ever before.

Karina, born Oct. 25, sleeps without medication in her home at 1725 Bank Street, and like any other three-month-old baby, eats heartily every three hours, according to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Willard.

Victim of a congenital heart defect and a near-fatal accident aboard the ferry to Vancouver—Karina Marie fought 41 odds on her life and won.

The baby had to be transferred Dec. 7 to Vancouver, where a rare operation, involving use of an artificial heart could take place.

BULB FAILED

While en route, a light bulb in the baby's incubator went out and the temperature began to drop rapidly. Only the replacement with an ordinary bulb, which brought incubator temperature to 65 degrees, kept Karina alive.

Once landed at Tsawwassen she was escorted to Vancouver General Hospital by police cars at speeds up to 70 miles per hour.

The following day, Dec. 8, a team of seven doctors headed by Dr. Phillip Ashmore of Vancouver worked over her for 3½ hours. For 35 minutes the baby lived with an artificial heart.

At the start of the operation Karina was given a one in five chance of survival. Now, seven weeks later, she is home with her parents.

STIMULANT

According to her mother the baby eats normally and is beginning to add to her 10 pounds, nine ounces. The only drug which Karina takes is a twice daily dose of lanoxin, an elixir of digitalis which stimulates the heart.

As long as the tot stays free of any infection in the next month, the doctors say she will be out of trouble.

Pleads for Sect
To Be Broken Up

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — Mayor Tom Shorthouse said today "civil war" in this southeast Kootenay district of British Columbia is threatening the lives of peace-loving citizens.

He made his comment after a terrorist bomb exploded in the courthouse Sunday causing an estimated $2,000 worth of damage. A special assize in the courthouse trying Sons of Freedom Doukhobors on various charges connected with terrorism continued today. Eighty members of the radical sect have been arrested and 13 convicted.

Mr. Shorthouse demanded that the Sons of Freedom settlement of Krestova, 30 miles west of here, be broken up.

He said the village, the sect's capital, is a "retreat or hideaway for ruthless criminals."

"These people have been burning and bombing their own communal properties. That is bad enough, but now they are moving contemptuously against our courts and our country and this is intolerable."

He said the Freedomites should be dispersed throughout Canada.

"Surely this must prove to our legislators in Victoria and Ottawa that civil war exists and threatens the lives of peace-loving citizens."

"Do people have to be killed before the apathy will end and the government will act on this terror that has plagued this country for 40 years or more."

U.S. Transport
Downed in LaosSHELL LANDS
NEAR PREMIER

VIENTIANE (AP) — A mortar shell just missed Laotian Premier Prince Bouin Oum today as he was leaving the besieged northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha after an inspection, his finance minister said.

"As we took off from Nam Tha, a mortar shell fell just where our plane had stood," Finance Minister Phouangphet Phanareth told reporters.

Reinforcements Land

NAM THA, Laos — Royal Army transport planes defied Communist mortar fire aimed at Nam Tha's airstrip Sunday and landed reinforcements at the menaced provincial capital.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A transport plane was shot down by hostile forces Sunday while flying over the Plaine des Jarres, on an air drop to government forces in the area, was learned today.

The American pilot and copilot and four Laotian crew members were killed in the crash in the hill country east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The C-46 was operated by Air America, a civilian firm set up by the American government to provide the Laotian army with air transport.

Air American said it was on a normal mission dropping rice and other commodities to refugees and army units.

It was not immediately known whether it has been shot down by neutralist troops, pro-Communist Pathet Lao or anti-aircraft weapons manned by North Vietnamese soldiers.

Courthouse Damaged
By Fire

NELSON (CP) — The stately Nelson courthouse felt the sting of terrorist fire Sunday night.

Incendiary devices, crudely made from half-gallon cans filled with oil, were burned in the building's entrance.

A stairwell was destroyed and walls scorched.

Damage was estimated at more than $2,000.

The stone courthouse, three storeys high, has been the site for the trials of some members of the Radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, charged with acts of terrorism throughout the Kootenay area of southeastern British Columbia.

About 80 of the Sons have been arrested, 13 have been convicted and 10 sentenced to prison.

TRIALS CONTINUE

Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan of the British Columbia Supreme Court, presiding at the trials now, said court would sit today. Three of the Sons — Leo Legebokoff, Fred Jmaeff and John Dabakoff — were to be sentenced.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Serpent Rahu had his fun but the world—beset as it may be with earthly troubles—remained intact today.

"Doomsday Weekend" passed without the horrible calamities predicted by Hindu soothsayers that sent millions of frightened Indian and Nepalese believers to prayer meetings.

The evil Rahu "swallowed the sun" as predicted today. But things came back to normal after an eclipse lasting about three minutes.

The path of the eclipse lay over the South Pacific. "It was so dark I could not see the numbers on my camera," said Jim Huxley, editor of The New Guinea Times.

Dogs barked, roosters crowed and native Papuans on the island hid in their huts until the sun shone again.

There were no reports of the catastrophes astrologers had predicted. Rahu, the evil snake of Indian legend, would leave in his wake—catastrophes ranging from devastating earthquakes to the end of the world.

$10 PENSION INCREASE
TO START FROM FEB. 1?

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — The $10 increase in the old age pension is expected to go forward to the pensioners in their end-of-February or start-of-March cheques.

There was a conviction among members of parliament on both sides of the House today that when the government introduces its pension bill this week payment of the increases will be made retroactive to Feb. 1.

Debate on the resolution calling for a measure to increase the amount of monthly pension payable to $65 a month was scheduled to get under way in the House this afternoon.

NEW FORM OF QUACKERY SAYS OTTAWA EXPERT

Vitamin Pills 'Money Down Drain'

QUEBEC (CP) — The federal government's top nutritional expert said today gullible Canadians have fallen for a new form of medical quackery—the consumption of huge amounts of unnecessary vitamins and mineral supplements.

Dr. J. E. Monagle, chief of the nutrition division of the federal health department, told the Canadian Fruit Wholesalers' Association annual meeting of millions of dollars being wasted annually by those who respond to "sucker bait" of the vitamin manufacturers.

"For all this expenditure, probably there is no evidence to support a claim that any single customer has been shown to require vitamin or mineral supplements," he said.

"It follows then, of course, that it is even more unlikely that any single case can be validly documented to demonstrate that any individual has benefited by the use of the supplements."

Dr. Monagle described as "ill-founded" a concept among many Canadians that the only means of ensuring adequate nutrition could be achieved by eating a balanced diet of foods easily available to everyone.

Dr. Monagle said he was not referring to the prescription of vitamins by physicians for specific deficiencies.

"If the use of vitamin supplements were any indication of the state of nutrition of a country, it would appear that Canada was one of the most poorly fed countries in the world," he said.

"As you are well aware, the situation is quite the reverse. It is doubtful that any people are better fed."

Dr. Monagle said it is fortunate that the excessive use of vitamins is relatively harmless. Quantities consumed in excess of body needs were eliminated in body wastes.

"Expenditures, therefore, on vitamin supplements for an ordinarily well-nourished person are quite literally money down the drain," he said.

Prices for Grade A large, medium and small eggs dropped two, one and two cents, respectively, effective today, according to local officials.

Gallery Gets Lion's Share Of Rich Gifts
The Art Gallery of Greater Victoria has probably received more gifts in the past 12 months than any other cultural centre of its kind in Canada, Colin Graham, curator said Saturday.
He disclosed the gallery received a total of 96 works of art, the latest one being a valuable painting by Dutch artist Cornelis Janasens Van Ceulan (1593-1614), whose works are seen today in major European art galleries and in Buckingham Palace.
Reports so far from other art centres across Canada, he said, showed the Victoria gallery fared better in acquiring works of art.

GIFT BY GOLDENS
Mr. Graham described the Van Ceulan painting as one of the most valuable gifts the gallery has received.
It was donated to the gallery by Capt. and Mrs. Massy Golden of Victoria.
The painting entitled "Unknown Woman in Black," was purchased in New York. Its sale price was not disclosed, but the painting's origin was traced to the 18th century art collection of the Earl of Liverpool.
Other gifts include a painting by A. Y. Jackson, a member of the famous Group of Seven. Donor is Alex McBain.
A selection of 23 modern and old Japanese prints presented by Mrs. Fred Pollard of San Francisco, formerly of Victoria.
A Russian icon, Eskimo prints and several rare pieces of Japanese pottery.
Some of the gifts will go on exhibition Monday.

... DOUKS

The fire started at 10:15 p.m. and some said there was an explosion. An earlier report that the fire squad had been called away on a false alarm minutes before the courthouse fire was discounted.

Police said terrorists entered the courthouse by breaking a rear window. They said there was blood, and a shoe print on the ledge.

Buster Wigg, a taxi driver, was sitting in a coffee shop when someone ran in to report the fire. Wigg ran to the courthouse, smashed through a glass door and, with his hands, cut off the air supply to the burning cans.

SEES MAN FLEEING
Patrick Brown, who was near the building at the time, said he would be able to identify a man he saw running from the courthouse.
RCMP officers have maintained watch on the courthouse as the Doukhobor trials proceed, and on occasion have forcefully quelled violence—once by threatening with dogs. J. Bowen-Colthurst, prosecuting at the special assize, said Sunday's action was a gesture of utter contempt for the whole structure of our society.

The attempt Sunday to fire the courthouse was the second act of its kind in the Kootenay this weekend. Three shacks south of the Freedomite settlement of Krestova were burned Friday night. Police said they were "worthless."

Attorney-General Bonner said in Victoria he was awaiting a detailed report from Nelson authorities before commenting on the incident.
"It's unfortunate that this incident may tend to prejudice the minds of the people the trials of the 60 still to come up in the area," he said.
Asked whether the court house bombing would bring a renewed drive against terrorist activities, Mr. Bonner said the police in the area don't need any further instructions from Victoria to put on a renewed drive.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Ice Threatens Fraser Flood
(Compiled from CP)
QUESNEL—Between 30 and 40 families, about 120 persons, were evacuated from homes along the banks of the Fraser River as a precautionary move early today as the ice-clogged Fraser River rose suddenly.
Authorities said only about six homes and some trailers were flooded in this community 60 miles south of Prince George but the unpredictable river could rise suddenly and inundate houses with little warning.
Meanwhile, the town officials have asked the provincial secretary's and highways departments to discuss ways and means of freeing the ice that piled up in the river after a premature breakup during an unseasonable mild spell last week.
The families and their furniture will be kept in the town until the flood danger is over—possibly some time.

GIRL RESCUED
—LADNER—A municipal police constable Saturday rescued a seven-year-old girl from a slough in Delta municipality south of Vancouver.

Constable Bill Booker happened on the scene and noticed an object in the water. Other children told him a little girl was in trouble. The constable jumped into the water fully clothed and managed to locate the unconscious girl, identified as Bridget Van Tunen, and carry her ashore. He then revived her and took her home.

OIL DUMPED
VANCOUVER—The B.C. Pilotage Association and the U.S. Coast Guard have been called in to help track down a vessel responsible for dumping a large quantity of oil in nearby Georgia Strait.
The thick mass of oil has moved into the Vancouver harbor, leaving yachts and small boats coated.

Officials have called in a number of boats with special equipment to tackle the cleaning job. They say damage could run as high as $200,000.

Jakarta Students Stone U.S. Envoy

JAKARTA (Reuters) — About 100 angry Indonesian students today attacked the U.S. Embassy here in protest against a reported American decision to allow Dutch troop transport planes to land in U.S. territory.

The demonstration came before reports reached here of a Dutch government announcement that the U.S. would not allow charter flights carrying Dutch troops to West New Guinea to stop at American territory.

The students tore down the U.S. flag and ripped it to pieces, and plastered the building with anti-American posters.

Several members of the embassy staff were reported hit by flying glass. One suffered a cut described as minor.

A hall of stones landed near Ambassador Howard Jones while he was inside his office but an embassy statement said he was not injured. All U.S. installations were placed under guard.

Indonesian troops and police rushed to the scene with machine-guns and rifles at the ready. They skinned with the stone-throwing students as the demonstration was breaking up outside the embassy gates. Several were arrested.

The demonstration brought a formal protest from Jones. He told Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio the U.S. would hold the Indonesian government responsible for the outbreak.

Subandrio replied that he regretted the damage to the embassy but he said he could understand the anger and concern of the Indonesian people.

The demonstration caused considerable alarm here being cause of the visit next week of President Kennedy's brother, currently visiting Japan on a world tour.

Centennial Flashback...
FEBRUARY 5
Two litigants who had a suit pending in the Summary Court settled the matter out of court in their own way. Walking together across the James' Bay Bridge, they fell to arguing, first verbally, then with fists. Interested spectators watched until one of the men cried "Hold, enough," then led the victor away. The suit will be withdrawn from the courts.

The Hudson's Bay ship Princess Royal, inbound from London, went aground on Shoal Point while being towed into the inner harbor by the company's steamer Otter. Citizens eagerly awaited high tide for the ship to be floated off, as she was said to carry a valuable and varied cargo.

A new rule went into effect at the debtor's prison, banning the daily half gallon of beer which was customarily sent in from a neighboring inn. There are four men in the prison at present.
